

New Year's baby

Being the first Pettis County baby born in Bothwell Hospital in 1974 didn't seem to make much of an impression on one-day-old Kara Ann Hartman, shown here with her mother Wednesday morning. Kara's parents, Mr. and Mrs.

Charles Hartman, Route 6, will receive a variety of prizes and gifts from area merchants to mark the timely arrival of their daughter. Kara was born at 11:58 a.m. Tuesday and weighed 8 pounds, 5 ounces. (Democrat-Capitol Photo)

IRS re-examining Nixon's tax returns

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service said today it is re-examining President Nixon's income tax returns for the past several years.

The IRS said representatives of Nixon are cooperating fully in the probe and had authorized disclosure of the action.

The IRS did not say what years would be covered by the review. But there has been controversy over the President's returns for 1970, 1971 and 1972.

The President paid total taxes for these three years of less than $6,000.

An IRS spokesman said in answer to a question that the tax agency could recover past taxes due for all three of those years, but that the statute of limitations would have expired for taxes due from previous years.

The IRS did not disclose the reason for its probe.

The agency said it has arranged to exchange information on the President's tax returns with the congressional Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation, which has agreed, at Nixon's request, to review the chief executive's tax returns for the years since he entered the White House in 1969.

The President's attorneys have estimated Nixon could owe as much as $267,000 in back taxes if the deductions he claimed are disallowed.

On Dec. 8, Nixon released a mass of personal financial data and allowed newsmen to inspect his income tax returns for the years 1969 through 1972.

The material showed that Nixon paid a total of $78,651.10 in federal income taxes for the four years, the bulk of it in 1969.

The breakdown by year: $72,682.09 in 1969; $792.81 in 1970; $878.02 in 1971; and $4,298.17 in 1972.

The main reason for the small tax payment during the last years was a controversial deduction Nixon took for donating his vice presidential papers to the government.

Some critics claim Nixon failed to fulfill the legal requirements for making the donation before a provision allowing such deductions expired.

Incumbent Democrats seeking re-election

Four Pettis County Democrats, all incumbents, filed for re-election Wednesday. County Clerk Mrs. Mary Jane Wilson announced.

Two other Democratic hopefuls, seeking to replace present office holders, also filed, she said.

Filing for re-election were Mrs. Wilson, Circuit Clerk William Lyles, Recorder of Deeds Mrs. Naomi Brown and Prosecuting Attorney Gary Fleming.

Others filing were attorney John McCloskey, for probate judge, and Bennie Hatfield, an employee of the Yellow Cab Co., for eastern district county court judge.

Mrs. Wilson will be running for her second four-year term. She was first elected in November, 1970. Mrs. Brown filed for her first full term as county recorder of deeds after being named in November, 1972, to complete the unexpired term of the late Reno Johnson. Mrs. Brown has worked in the recorder's office for the past 23 years.

Lyles will be running for his third four-year term. He was first elected in November, 1966. Fleming was elected to his first two-year term in November, 1972, after previously serving as assistant prosecuting attorney.

Although McCloskey has previously served as city counselor for two years and city prosecutor for nine years, he has not run for county office since the mid-1930's, when he was a candidate for prosecuting attorney in the Democratic primary.

He seeks to replace incumbent Republican Leo Harned, whose third four-year term will expire at the end of this year.

Hatfield also ran for eastern district judge in the 1972 Democratic primary, but was defeated by veteran E. L. "Red" Birdsong. Birdsong Monday filed for presiding judge, leaving Hatfield the sole contender, thus far, from the eastern district.

At school board meeting

Decision on wiring may be next week

The question of who will do electrical wiring work on a house being built by the Smith-Cotton High School building trades class may be decided at the Sedalia school board's meeting next Tuesday, despite the fact that no formal bids were ever sought on the project, it was learned Wednesday.

Last week, during a special meeting, the board received estimates from local electricians, including one non-union shop, on the work. The lowest estimate came from Medallion Electric Co., which said the work could be done for $1,202, or $103 less than the next estimate, which was submitted by Queen City Electric Co., a union shop.

At last week's meeting, Herb Ford, business representative for Local 124 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, informed the school board that pickets might be put up if the work were awarded to Medallion, adding that there wouldn't be "harmony" on the job.

Wednesday, Dr. Allan Henningsen, superintendent of schools, said Virgil Wills, instructor of the building trades class, spoke to area contractors for estimates on the work. At no time, he said, were formal bids ever let.

Henningsen also said that the school board, provided it does not use state or federal funds, or project costs do not exceed $2,500, can specify whether it wants union or non-union work. The board can also, he said, take any bid it wishes under these circumstances. However, there was "no formal bid here, we only asked for quotations" from the contractors, he said.

One point made by Ford was that Medallion employed people not licensed by the city. Dave Rouchka, co-owner of Medallion, said he had four employees and that one of them has had an application for a license on file with the city for more than 1½ years. "He filed his application while he still worked for Queen City, and he came with me about a year and five months ago," he said.

Woodrow Garrison, chairman of the city's electrical board, which reviews applications and grants licenses, confirmed that the Medallion employee had an application on file. He added, however, that he did not think the time lapse was as great as Rouchka said it was.

According to Garrison, no action has been taken on the application because it is the only one on file. "I didn't want to call a meeting of the board for just one application," he said, adding that he advised the electrician not to work until he had his license. "We don't give the test until winter because there's less work," for Garrison's office to handle, he said. He also said the board had not been called into session because he felt its members "are busy with other things."

Don Buller, a board member, told The Democrat-Capitol Wednesday that he couldn't say "we've had this come up before. We have no set meetings. We meet when he (Garrison) calls us." Buller also said that in the past the board has usually considered two or three applications at a time.

Garrison emphasized that Medallion was permitted to continue operation despite the lack of a license for its employee because, he said, during the peak building season some union shops have brought out-of-town electricians here for "two or three

Nixon signs measure lowering speed limits

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — President Nixon signed into law today a measure aimed at forcing the 50 states to adopt energy-saving speed limits of 55 miles per hour.

Nixon also signed another major bill setting up machinery for reorganizing seven bankrupt railroads in the Northeast and Midwest with federal loan guarantees of $1.5 billion and subsidies of more than $500 million.

Under the speed limit law, states will lose all federal highway funds unless they adopt 55-mile limits within 60 days.

Nixon said in a statement: "I have been gratified and encouraged by the number of states which have already voluntarily reduced their speed limits in accordance with my request ... estimates indicate that we can save nearly 200,000 barrels of fuel a day by observing a national limit of 55 miles per hour."

In another statement, Nixon said he considered some of the rail subsidies to be higher than they should be. However, he termed the reorganization law "an important turning point in the history of America's railroad industry" and commended Congress "for passing such responsible legislation."

The railroad bill sets up a new United States Railway Association, a nonprofit government corporation, to borrow the $1.5 billion to set up a new rail network under a privately operated Consolidated Rail Corp.

Hunt released pending outcome of his appeal

LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Watergate conspirator E. Howard Hunt was released from a federal prison today pending the outcome of an appeal filed in Washington.

Hunt, 54, was sentenced Nov. 9 to serve 2½-8 years in prison. He pleaded guilty last January to six counts of conspiracy, burglary and wiretapping in connection with the June 17, 1972 break-in at Democratic national headquarters in the Watergate building.

A federal appeals court in Washington on Friday ordered that Hunt and a second Watergate defendant, Bernard L. Barker of Miami, be released until the court acts on their appeals.

Both contend they should have been permitted to withdraw their guilty pleas, a request denied by U. S. District Court Judge John Sirica.

Barker was sentenced to 18 months to six years after pleading guilty to the same charges as Hunt. He was sent to a federal prison at Eglin Air Force Base near Pensacola, Fla.

Barker's release has not yet been arranged.

Hunt is expected to return to his home in Potomac, Md.

Dayan, Kissinger meeting on Friday

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Dayan will confer with Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger in Washington on Friday, the Western White House announced today.

In a brief announcement, a presidential spokesman said Dayan and Kissinger would consult "on the Geneva talks with emphasis on the subject of disengagement of forces."

The bankrupt railroads are the Penn Central, Central of New Jersey, Lehigh Valley, Reading, Erie Lackawanna, Boston and Maine, and Ann Arbor.

On Monday and Tuesday, Nixon placed a series of phone calls to Republicans Sens. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, Robert P. Griffin of Michigan, Barry Goldwater of Arizona, William E. Brock III of Tennessee and John G. Tower of Texas. He also called GOP Reps. John J. Rhodes of Arizona and Robert H. Michel of Illinois.

There was no word from the White House on what Nixon and the Congress members discussed. The White House has recognized the current congressional vacation as a potentially critical time of pulse-taking by Senate and House members regarding public attitudes toward the President.

Nixon also had telephone conferences Tuesday with Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger, staff chief Alexander M. Haig Jr., assistant Ronald L. Ziegler and secretary Rose Mary Woods.

On Sunday, the Western White House had announced Nixon's appointment of his wife Pat, who is here, as member and temporary chairman of a new 25-member National Voluntary Service Advisory Council.

An embarrassed Ziegler withdrew the announcement Tuesday, saying:

"Because of Mrs. Nixon's great interest in volunteerism and the new council, it was hoped that Mrs. Nixon could serve in this position. Due to an administrative error, the announcement was made before all legal and other checks were made. Under law, Mrs. Nixon can not hold a position appointed by the President."

Israeli parties maneuver for coalition government

JERUSALEM (AP) — Premier Golda Meir's Labor party and its traditional ally, the National Religious party, today began the maneuvering necessary to put together a new coalition government for Israel.

Although the soldiers' ballots from the cease-fire lines were still to be tallied, unofficial returns from Monday's general election indicated Mrs. Meir might be able to line up 69 members of the 120-member Knesset, the Israeli parliament, for a majority of 18.

This would include 50 Laborites, 11 members of the National Religious party, 5 Independent Liberals and 3 members of ultra-orthodox religious parties affiliated with the Labor alignment.

The leader of the National Religious party, Michael Hazani, said he would insist on formation of a "national unity government," meaning inclusion of the Laborites' chief opposition, the right-wing Likud bloc, which demands that Israel retain all Arab territory captured in the 1967 war.

However, Labor leaders view this demand by Hazani as a bargaining ploy only. They were confident that he would abandon it in exchange for their agreement to stronger religious legislation.

In the returns from the civilian balloting, the Laborites got 41.9 per cent of the vote, the Socialists' smallest showing in Israel's 25 years as a state. The big gain was made by Likud, led by Menachem Begin, which got 27.1 per cent of the vote and was in line for 39 seats, a gain of seven.

The right-wing gains may force the government to hold on to some of the captured Arab territories it was prepared to relinquish in the Arab-Israeli peace negotiations in Geneva.

Transport Minister Shimon Peres said it would take Mrs. Meir and her associates a "little bit of time and a great deal of bargaining" to put together a new majority in the Knesset.

This may delay the resumption of the main Geneva negotiations. But Israel's military negotiators returned to Switzerland today to continue talks with Egyptian representatives about disengagement of their forces along the Suez Canal.

Begin claimed 55 of the members of the new parliament would support his stand on the occupied territories while only 52 would support Mrs. Meir's more flexible stand. He said the election showed "the national majority is against dividing the Land of Israel."

British miners, coal industry are meeting

LONDON (AP) — Leaders of Britain's miners and the state-owned coal industry met today for crucial talks aimed at ending the slowdown that has put the nation's factories on short work weeks.

"It all depends on the color of the cash," said Mick McGahey, Communist vice president of the National Union of Mineworkers. "If the coal board is not prepared to pay, the miner's action will continue."

Coal output has been slashed by a third because the miners are refusing to work overtime.

"It may be necessary to make the overtime ban into a strike," McGahey declared.

Another meeting was due to try to resolve a slowdown by train drivers who, like the miners, are demanding a pay raise exceeding the maximum allowed in the government's anti-inflation program.

The slowdowns and resultant power reductions, coupled with the Arab oil cutbacks, have sent unemployment skyrocketing.

The Department of Trade and Industry said 640,000 persons applied for unemployment benefits this week in addition to the 490,000 jobless already on the rolls.

Beginning this week, the government put all nonessential industries on a three-day week to spread the supply of electricity. It also ordered such round-the-clock operations as steel mills to curtail their power consumption drastically.

The power shortage is due to a 30 per cent drop in coal production caused by the refusal of the miners to work weekends and overtime unless they are granted pay raises in excess of the anti-inflation ceilings set by Prime Minister Edward Heath. A slowdown by railwaymen also demanding more pay has reduced coal deliveries further.

Leaders of the miners were to resume negotiations today with the National Coal Board, and leaders of the railmen were to meet with officials of British Railways.

Tom Boardman, Heath's trade and industry minister, reported that the power stations have enough coal on hand to supply their present reduced service until late March.

Syracuse stop not on Amtrak schedule

The 120 passengers who were stranded Tuesday for several hours in a stalled Amtrak passenger train near Syracuse were given a brief preview of their forthcoming ordeal when they were forced to wait in Sedalia for five minutes while the train's boiler unit was being checked, a local Amtrak official reported Wednesday.

Their brief stay in Sedalia, however, proved little preparation for the later experience, which included being confined to unheated train cars for several hours in near zero weather before being rescued by two switch engines which towed them into Jefferson City.

After arriving in Jefferson City, passengers were given hot sandwiches and drinks by Amtrak officials and Salvation Army volunteers. Heat was also restored to the train units at Jefferson City.

Despite the heat restoration, approximately 40 train passengers had apparently given up and secured other means of transportation, it was reported.

The train, which was making the Kansas City to New York run, arrived in St. Louis at 8:20 a.m. Wednesday, some 17 hours behind schedule.

One passenger, Frank Salt, of Olathe, Kan., said most of the passengers aboard signed a letter of complaint he had drafted while waiting for the trip to continue.

Among those waiting was Alice Fitzgerald, a student from State College, Pa. She said she spent most of her waiting time trying to make plane reservations to the east coast.

"I was most enthusiastic about Amtrak — until tonight," she said.

In all, more than 900 passengers aboard four Amtrak passenger trains found themselves at unscheduled stops as part of the New Year's holiday.

A Chicago-to-Denver streamliner carrying 400 passengers was delayed for more than 12 hours Monday night and Tuesday at Galesburg, Ill., after water was mistakenly poured into a diesel fuel tank.

The water froze in the fuel lines in near-zero weather.

The extra stop for an Amtrak turboliner Tuesday was five miles north of Normal, also in central Illinois.

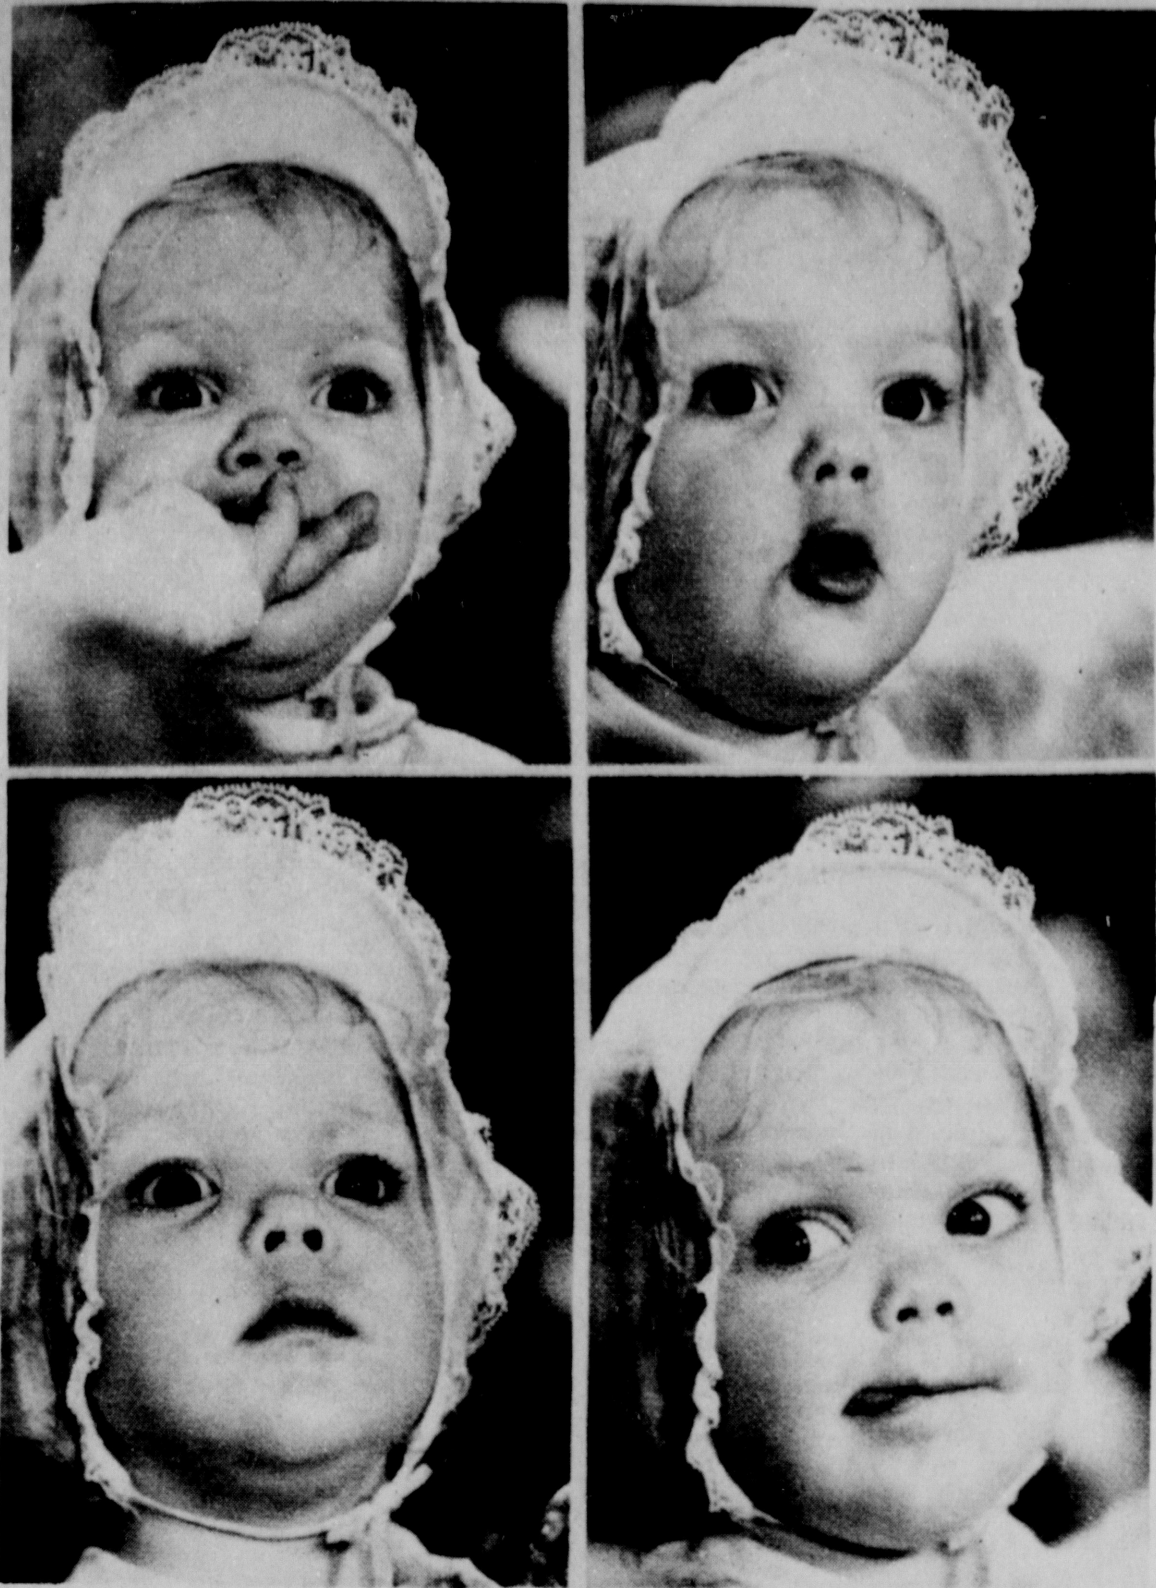

A dispatcher at Bloomington, Ill., the train's last scheduled stop as it headed from St. Louis to Chicago with 90 aboard, said the train apparently ran out of fuel because the engines had been left running Monday night to keep them from freezing.

On the West Coast, an Amtrak train en route from Vancouver, Wash., with 313 aboard braked to an unscheduled stop Tuesday at Klamath Falls, Ore., after a freight train jumped the tracks ahead.

For Walter Schendle, the Klamath Falls stop for the Amtrak train using Southern Pacific rails was trouble on top of trouble.

Mind your money

Transportation hints listed

By PETER WEAVER
Start your own transportation company?

You may have to do it (at least as a frame of mind) to cope with the greatest transportation mess this country has ever faced.

For years we have been lulled into a false sense of security, believing that our supply of gasoline was unlimited. Now, we know the truth. It's confusing to many of us who never dreamed our personal wheels would ever be severely restricted. To sort out this situation, you might consider setting aside a special transportation file where you keep records, receipts and other personal or family finance information. Some possible items:

Automobile: Make a priority list. What are the most essential — least essential — needs for your car? What is your car's local mileage range on a tankful of gas? Small cars have a greater range but can't carry many people or groceries. Big cars have less range but can carry more people, groceries and cargo in pooling situations.

Find a regular, neighborhood gasoline supplier and stick with him. When push comes to shove, neighborhood stations will take care of their regular customers first. If the gasoline supplier has a good mechanic, so much the better. Keep your engine tuned and you'll save fuel.

Co-ops: Professional transportation companies stick together. You should imitate them. The carpool is the basic transportation cooperative. Form pools for work — even for shopping and entertainment. You'll save plenty on gasoline and it may even be an interesting way of socializing. Don't forget that carpools can present damage and liability problems in certain situations. Check with your insurer first.

If you live in a large apartment, condominium or fairly cohesive single-home development, you might consider organizing your own, neighborhood transportation company. For commuters who don't have easy access to a local transit system, a leased bus may become a necessity. Your bus can also be used for regular shopping and entertainment trips (sports events, weekend outings and whatnot).

The very least you can do is get a neighborhood cooperative going for group purchase of gasoline, repairs and parts. You might even consider making an inventory of the neighborhood (or building) wheels. Who has big station wagons or pickup trucks for hauling group purchases? Who can be called, at what hour, for medicine or other emergency runs?

Local Transit: How can you make best use of local transit schedules and maps? What's the deal with local taxis? They may get gasoline when you can't. If you don't have a local transit system, or the one you have is inadequate, start applying political fire to the

Ann Landers

Grandma resented by daughter-in-law

Dear Ann Landers: Whenever you print a letter that puts a mother-in-law in a bad light, my daughter-in-law sends it to me. No comment — just the column. Otherwise, I never receive a line from her. She believes it's up to a son to write to his mother and his wife shouldn't "take him off the hook," as she puts it. My son hates to write so I rarely hear from them. I envy other grandmas who get pictures of the little ones and nice letters to cheer their lonely days. This boy is my only child and his children are very dear to me. What about it, Ann? Am I expecting too much? — Salinas, Kansas

Dear S.K.: If we took a poll I'll bet we'd find that the great majority of letters written to grandmas come from daughters-in-law, not sons.

Since your son hates to write, he should pick up the phone — every other Sunday perhaps — and place a station-to-station call just to say hello. It would be the finest gift he could give you and it would cost very little.

Dear Ann Landers: I live next door to a teenage girl who deserves to be complimented. I don't even know her name, but if you print my letter I am sure she will recognize herself.

All summer long and into fall and winter, this girl has had boyfriends come by to visit her. One particular fellow is especially attractive. She always entertains him on the steps. Sometimes they walk down the street a few hundred feet and sit on the wall near the bus stop. Why? Because her mother works and I presume she has been asked not to entertain boyfriends in the house unless a parent is present.

This girl always appears to be having such a good time, and so do her boyfriends. They laugh a lot and have animated conversations. She evidently loves and respects her parents and I'll bet the boys like her more because she has such good character.

I predict one day this young lady will marry well and be very happy. There will be no regrets to bug her, and no guilt. — Teen Watcher in Richmond

Dear Teen Watcher: What a refreshing letter! I've always believed that teenagers need models more than they need critics. So there's a model for you, girls.

Dear Ann Landers: I finally know why people write to Ann Landers. For the first time in my life I have a problem I can't handle.

My husband, who makes $20,000 a year, was arrested for shoplifting $5 worth of junk. The shame I feel for him is driving me crazy. He says he doesn't know why he did it. He has never done anything dishonest in his entire life. I am completely bewildered. I am not a religious fanatic, but I now see him as a sinner — weak and foolish.

The children don't know what to make of it and I don't know what to tell them. The judge was lenient because this was his first offense and his reputation is excellent. But my confidence in him is shot. Help me put my life back together. — Denver

Dear Denver: Sounds as if the man had a sudden siege of mental illness, perhaps a small stroke. Please talk to a therapist or a counselor. It may be that he needs therapy — and you could use some also — to rid yourself of the hostility and anger.

People in the news

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — President Nixon joined millions of others New Year's Day as he relaxed in front of the television set, watching football bowl games.

There was an indication Nixon's working vacation here would last the rest of the week as aides said his friend and Florida neighbor, C.G. "Bebe" Rebozo, was flying to California by commercial jet.

NEW YORK (AP) — With a promise to "give the people a real voice in their own destiny," Abraham D. Beame became this city's 104th mayor.

The 67-year-old Brooklyn Democrat, the city's first Jewish mayor, succeeds John V. Lindsay. Beame took his oath privately Monday night and publicly Tuesday in front of City Hall as some 1,500 persons looked on in cold, drizzly weather.

Lindsay, 52, described his emotions on leaving office as mixed.

"It's been a long eight years," he said. He did not seek re-election and has not announced future plans.

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The first child born in 1974 at Memorial Hospital here has as her grandfather a television star — actor Dick Van Dyke.

Named Jessica Lee by her parents, Christian and Caroline Van Dyke, the child was born at 1:09 a.m. Tuesday.

"I called my father and he was so excited he could hardly speak," Christian said. "It was my parent's first grandchild and my wife's parents' first. She's just a beautiful baby."

Fulton to vote on city manager issue

FULTON, Mo. (AP) — Voters will go to the polls in Fulton Feb. 4 for a special election to determine whether they want to retain the mayor-council form of government or change to the city manager form.

The special election is the result of a petition drive by the Callaway County League of Women Voters.

Young artisans rejuvenate crafts

Polly's pointers

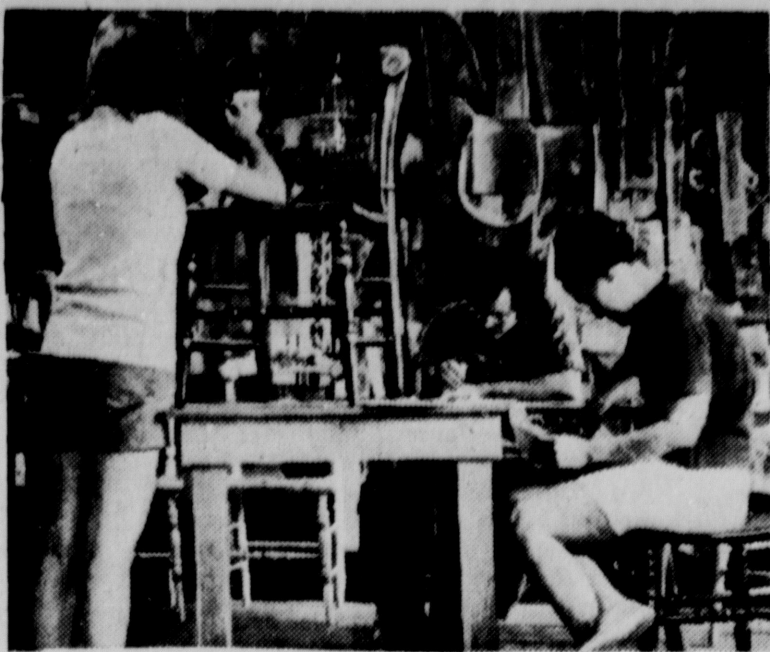

The Sedalia Democrat, Wednesday, Jan. 2, 1974—3A

NEW YORK (AP) — Young artisans will help revive the spirit of '76 when the United States celebrates its 200th birthday.

Their interest in early American crafts — quilting, weaving, silversmithing, pewtering, stenciling and so on — will help make the Centennial an authentic experience, predicts Tom Glennon, president of The Hitchcock Chair Co. of Riverton, Conn., where some youthful artists work and others are to be encouraged to run their own handicraft businesses. The original chair company closed down in 1863 and was revived in 1946.

The hordes of young people interested in crafts should allay fears of antiquarians that other traditional crafts, architectural and the like, are dying out. Youthful craftsmen are interested in everything, he said in an interview here.

"In fact they are helping us do things we haven't been able to do before," Glennon insists. "They are reproducing, free-hand and stencil, Currier and Ives scenes, and our limited edition series that depict Mt. Vernon, Monticello, the Adams House and Philadelphia scenes.

Celebration

Their artistic embellishments make manufactured articles look handcrafted.

In addition to furniture refinishing and decorating, young workers weave rush seats as they were woven more than a century ago. They also steam-bend wood, paint tavern signs and so on.

"They are happiest doing their thing and we are going to help them run their own businesses. We've bought a section of town and are putting in eight or ten shops. Our plan is to subsidize young people in various crafts."

Many other chair companies pre-dated the original Hitchcock Company and perhaps some 50 companies were mass-producing fancy chairs between 1810 and 1860 at the height of their popularity, but present-day nostalgia has been built around the revived company because it is turning out chairs in the old way.

The original factory was decaying when Glennon's father-in-law, John Kenney, bought it and the trademark 27 years ago, refurbished it and planned it as a part-time enterprise while he ran his shoe store in Hartford. But it was soon going full steam and now turns out some 3,000 chairs a week and some 100 different items.

Although the original company was among the first to mass-produce Boston-type rocking chairs, it is best known for its dark, gold-striped chairs with decorated rails. Other companies make such chairs using the name generically.

This year more than 40,000 tourists visited the company's museum — a former church where Hitchcock was married in 1830 — to view the original chairs that are on display. Only those signed and made between 1826 and 1840 are considered "real Hitchcocks" Glennon insists.

$450 face lift, book results of trip

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer
She may never get back the $9,000 she spent writing and researching her recently published book, "Fire in Afghanistan, 1914-1929," but Rhea Talley Stewart's face lift is something else. No matter how you look at it, the face job she had done on a side trip to India was a bargain at $450, she remarked.

It might well have cost $5,000 in the United States with hospital expenses and all that, she explained, so she'll still be ahead even if the book doesn't sell well.

Mrs. Stewart hadn't planned to get a face lift when she made side trips to India from Afghanistan. In fact she hadn't planned to write a book when she went to Afghanistan on a vacation. But both experiences have been adventures.

"I had read about Afghanistan in the library and when I got there I fell in love with its old-world look. It was like turning the clock back centuries in time, and I wanted to write about it."

In reading about the country one mention of a former king, Amir Amanullah, really gave her the impetus to begin a manuscript.

"The story indicated he had been thrown out of his country for being too progressive. He had suggested schools for girls as well as boys, more modern dress for citizens, and the unveiling of the ladies."

The 585-page book involved five trips to Afghanistan and a trip to London over a four-year period during which time she

As luck would have it, she learned the British were opening their documents on the episode after the usual 30-year closure. In London it took three months to microfilm the documents she wanted — the actual chronology of events.

Much of her material is from those British documents and discovered the Afghans knew practically nothing about "the good King Amanullah."

On her second trip, he realized she had stumbled into an underground thing — nobody talked about the deposed king who had died in Rome in 1960. He had been "a non-person" for about 40 years. Histories mentioned his name but told nothing of his thwarted reforms.

"Even the United States embassy which had extended a lot of courtesies to me suddenly dropped me like a hot potato," she insists.

the intrigue includes murder, conspiracy, embassy involvement, and what all, laid in a country "where farmers still plow with bullocks, bread is baked in the ground, and sheep are driven along the streets."

Why harass cops with petty woes?

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — A Pet Peeve of mine and of others is living in a neighborhood where the neighbors call the police for every little thing. I think that people are more apt to stop or cut down doing what bothers you if you talk to them. The police have more important things to do besides settling arguments between neighbors. If someone is making too much noise or causing a disturbance talk to them quietly before bringing in the law. People do not seem to show any compassion for others any more. Everybody seems to be walking around with a chip on his shoulder. — MARTHA.

DEAR POLLY — and B. G. who wants to know how to starch her crocheted doilies stiffly — I crocheted 32 doilies one summer and learned to make a very heavy cooked starch with lump or powdered starch. I did not find the liquid or instant starches were satisfactory. Use two or three times as much as suggested for the heaviest finish. Dissolve starch in cold water until smooth and then add boiling water and stir constantly so there are no lumps. Bring to a boil until it is transparent and as thick as pudding. Dampen doily, then dip in hot starch using a spoon to get it all through the crocheted and to protect your hands. Do not wring doily too dry and then spread it right side up on a big heavy cardboard that has been covered with waxed paper. Stretch center evenly to size. If ruffle is very full shape over paper or foam cups of the proper size. If ruffle is double-joined at top and bottom of each ruffle use pointed end paper cups or paper towels rolled to cone shapes to stuff each ruffle. Dry in the sun if possible. Keep working and shaping as the doily dries. As soon as ruffles will hold their shape remove stuffing. If left until doily dries they may be hard to remove. — MRS. R.P.

DEAR GIRLS — Leona wrote that she uses somewhat the same procedure but stiffens her doilies with a sugar mixture rather than with starch. It, too, is boiled until clear and about twice as much sugar is used as water. She also uses small drinking glasses, held in place with clothespins to shape her ruffles. Both methods are widely used but like Mrs. E.P. I personally prefer the starch method. — POLLY.

Polly's problem

DEAR POLLY — I hope someone will tell me how to wash a vinyl table cover with fringe around the edges so it will not come out wrinkled. — MRS. M. St. C.

More snow, ice and cold ahead for Sedalia area

Although Pettis County is enjoying a brief respite from the winter storms that have gripped the nation and sent mercuries plunging to record lows, more snow and more cold weather are ahead.

Snow is forecast again for tonight and Thursday, with at least four inches predicted, adding to the discomfort caused by Sunday's 11-inch snowfall.

Sedalia's major streets were mostly cleared by Wednesday morning and most secondary streets were passable.

County Engineer Ed Hall told The Democrat-Capital Wednesday morning that most county roads "should be cleared by tomorrow (Thursday)."

According to Hall, approximately 415 out of the county's 600 miles of roads were cleared by Wednesday.

Most roads throughout the state remain ice and snow covered with only a few showing normal driving conditions.

The following report on roads effecting the Pettis County area was issued by the Water pipe breaks ; damage is avoided by firms in area

A seven-foot section of cast iron pipe, located between Massachusetts and Lamine directly behind the Sedalia water tower broke Tuesday and sent an undetermined amount of water gushing as far away as Ohio Street.

The break occurred about 3 p.m. and it took water department employees until about 9 o'clock that night to replace the pipe, according to Herb Taylor, water department manager.

Although the amount of water lost was not determined, none of the businesses in the area sustained any apparent damage, a check Wednesday revealed.

"It took us longer to replace the pipe than usual because the ground was frozen," Taylor said. "That made the digging more difficult."

Taylor declined to blame Tuesday's sub-zero temperatures for the accident, saying "I'm pretty sure the problem wasn't caused by the weather."

A spokesman for the firm's filtration plant said plant officials were notified of the incident by the Sedalia Police Department and a private citizen. Four men performed the repair work, the spokesman said. "There was nothing we could do about the water itself," he said. "We could only replace the pipe."

Taylor said the cost of the replacement pipe was $14. He indicated the amount of water lost could not be determined.

Decision

weeks" to finish a job. Those electricians, he said, are not licensed by the city and, he added, he felt it would be unfair to penalize a local contractor.

He also said that the city license, which costs 50 cents a year, is required of individual electricians in order to allow the building inspector a measure of control over the type of work that is done. He said the license insures that only qualified persons do electrical work in the city.

The test, he added, is given only after the application filed with his office is "graded." The determination of whether to give an applicant one of three tests the city has available is based on how much experience he has had and in what field.

"We don't give the test to just every Tom, Dick or Harry who walks in here. We don't have the time," Garrison said. He added that after the initial screening, applicants may choose from one of three tests, each of which includes reading electrical diagrams. The tests combine both residential and commercial electrical wiring skills, he said. The only license the city issues is a journeyman electrician's license.

At last week's school board meeting, Ford indicated he had made arrangements with former superintendent of schools Dr. T. J. Norris to obtain assistance from the Sedalia Building and Trades Council for work on the house.

Norris, however, said that S-C Principal Earl Finley had a more direct hand in the negotiations with the BTC. And Finley said Wednesday that he only asked for "cooperation from the Building and Trades Council in establishing this class because our students will be on the job market after they graduate." He also said the BTC offered both its technical advice and assistance on past projects. There were no guarantees that all work would go to union shops.

Another point that Ford made last week was that Medallion should not be allowed to do the work at the house now under construction because its employees were untrained electricians.

Rouchka said, however, that he had planned to personally over-see the work if awarded the bid since the house is close to his own home. Rouchka was a union electrician while he worked for Queen City Electric Co., and has been non-union since opening his own shop in March 1972, he said.

Electrical wiring on the first house built by the S-C building and trades class, last year, was performed by Herndon Electric Co., a union shop. School officials pointed out Wednesday that, in addition to doing the actual wiring, electricians also show S-C students how such work should be done.

Former U.S. ambassador to Russia dies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Charles E. "Chip" Bohlen, a top-level diplomat and recognized expert on Russia who came in for some disfavor during the McCarthy era, is dead.

Bohlen, who was 69, died of cancer Tuesday evening at Washington Hospital Center, his doctor said.

Bohlen served four stints in Moscow and was ambassador from 1953 to 1957. He was so fluent in Russian that he was able to explain the rules of baseball to Soviet dictator Joseph Stalin.

However, his contention that Russia and the United States could learn to live in the same world brought attacks by conservatives.

When President Dwight D. Eisenhower nominated him for the Moscow post, the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, R-Wis., led the opposition.

The McCarthy-led group linked him with what they called appeasement policies during the Truman administration. Eventually, the nomination was confirmed 74 to 13.

Among his friends, the lanky Bohlen was known for his great charm, ready wit and remarkable memory.

Bohlen began his 40-year diplomatic career in 1929, serving first in Prague. He first joined the Moscow embassy staff in 1934, shortly after the United States recognized the Communist regime.

His first important assignment came when he was chosen President Franklin D. Roosevelt's top interpreter at the wartime Tehran conference.

Transferred from Moscow to be ambassador to the Philippines in 1957, Bohlen's embassy office in Manila was still adorned with books on Communism.

Some regarded his move to Manila as an exile. It was known that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles disagreed with Bohlen's views on Soviet affairs.

However, two years later, President Eisenhower ignored new Republican opposition in the Senate to bring Bohlen back to Washington as a top Soviet expert in the State Department.

In 1962, fellow Harvard graduate President John F. Kennedy appointed Bohlen ambassador to France. He served six years in Paris, an unusually long term in that prestigious post.

Before retiring in 1969, Bohlen served as deputy undersecretary of state for political affairs, considered the highest post a career diplomat can reach.

Bohlen leaves his wife, the former Avis Thayer, whom he met while she was visiting her brother, then also a foreign service officer in Moscow, and three children.

Food delivery is postponed here

Commodity food recipients under the volunteer driver program will not receive their monthly commodities on Thursday, a spokesman for the drivers said Tuesday.

Recipients will be told by their drivers what dates they will receive delivery of the commodities. The regular distribution day of Thursday was postponed due to bad road conditions.

The postponement affects only those commodity recipients who are unable to get their food at the commodity distribution center, 118 North Lamine.

Higher prices may follow fresh supplies

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The new year meant fresh gasoline supplies today for many of the nation's motorists, but government officials say stiff price hikes may be right around the corner.

"The situation should improve considerably today and Thursday" said Anthony Ippolito, an Automobile Club of New York official.

Gas allocations are delivered at the beginning of each month in most cases, and he said many stations had at least part of their January allotments.

Charles Binsted, of the Washington-based National Congress of Petroleum Retailers, said he expected most stations to reopen around the nation today because they "have gotten their January allocations with little difficulty."

Oil companies were given the go-ahead Monday to hike gasoline prices 1.5 cents a gallon. Federal Energy Office officials said Tuesday that prices could be about 10 cents a gallon more by March.

Most gas station operators took New Year's Day off, even though some had gasoline.

"We asked them to close early this week to conserve fuel for the holidays," said Dan Usner, a New Orleans, La., operator and president of the state Service Station Association. "The steps we took to conserve apparently helped out."

Even though stations had more gas today, he said the outlook for January was still uncertain.

In Washington state, a spokesman for the Arco distributorship said Tuesday night there were "nine tank trucks on the road going like gangbusters to deliver the January allocation."

Bill Merry, a spokesman for the Automobile Club of Washington, said said 650 calls from motorists were received Tuesday in Seattle area. About 4 per cent reported they were stranded.

In Milwaukee, Wis., the American Automobile Association said sub-zero weather created a "tremendous volume" of distress calls from motorists.

Those out of gas were out of luck. The AAA said "of all the stations available for service, only one was open for the sale of gasoline."

Cold weather and snow storms in the Midwest combined with the fuel shortage to keep motorists off the highway Tuesday. The result was fewer traffic fatalities.

The National Safety Council had predicted between 470-570 persons would die on the nation's highways over the four-day holiday.

By 1 a.m. EST today, 356 deaths were reported.

Mail rate hikes put off to March

A scheduled Saturday increase of all postal rates, both domestic and foreign, has been postponed until at least March 2, it was announced Wednesday by Maurice Hogan, postmaster in Sedalia.

Hogan was informed of the delay by Ralph Nicholson, senior assistant postmaster general for the U.S. Postal Service in Washington.

Rates for domestic mail would have jumped from 8 cents for regular first class postage to 10 cents, and from 11 to 13 cents for air mail items.

Although officials here were not certain about the reason for the delay, it was reported earlier in the week that the federal Cost of Living Council had failed to approve the hikes.

Investigate gas theft, vandalism act

Police are investigating vandalism and gas theft from two gas pumps at G-Disco, 1020 Thompson Blvd., sometime between Saturday and Tuesday.

According to the police report, the vandalism was discovered by Kathy Wagner, manager, who told police that two premium gas pumps and a sliding door had $450 worth of damage and that an undetermined amount of gas was taken in the incident.

The sliding door was apparently pried open and the nozzles removed from the pumps.

In other police news, a portable television set, valued at $215, was taken from a business at 210 East Main sometime Monday night, according to Dorothy Brooks, owner.

Carl Farris, 301 East Fifth, told police he was walking east on Fourth Street about 8:30 p.m. Monday when two men came up from behind, grabbed him and started removing items from his pockets.

Farris said the men took his billfold, containing $9, a silver dollar, an undetermined amount of change and a pocketknife.

Farris said the men, who said nothing to him during the incident, released him and walked north on Lamine.

Higher prices may follow fresh supplies

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The new year meant fresh gasoline supplies today for many of the nation's motorists, but government officials say stiff price hikes may be right around the corner.

"The situation should improve considerably today and Thursday" said Anthony Ippolito, an Automobile Club of New York official.

Gas allocations are delivered at the beginning of each month in most cases, and he said many stations had at least part of their January allotments.

Charles Binsted, of the Washington-based National Congress of Petroleum Retailers, said he expected most stations to reopen around the nation today because they "have gotten their January allocations with little difficulty."

Oil companies were given the go-ahead Monday to hike gasoline prices 1.5 cents a gallon. Federal Energy Office officials said Tuesday that prices could be about 10 cents a gallon more by March.

Most gas station operators took New Year's Day off, even though some had gasoline.

"We asked them to close early this week to conserve fuel for the holidays," said Dan Usner, a New Orleans, La., operator and president of the state Service Station Association. "The steps we took to conserve apparently helped out."

Even though stations had more gas today, he said the outlook for January was still uncertain.

In Washington state, a spokesman for the Arco distributorship said Tuesday night there were "nine tank trucks on the road going like gangbusters to deliver the January allocation."

Bill Merry, a spokesman for the Automobile Club of Washington, said said 650 calls from motorists were received Tuesday in Seattle area. About 4 per cent reported they were stranded.

In Milwaukee, Wis., the American Automobile Association said sub-zero weather created a "tremendous volume" of distress calls from motorists.

Those out of gas were out of luck. The AAA said "of all the stations available for service, only one was open for the sale of gasoline."

Cold weather and snow storms in the Midwest combined with the fuel shortage to keep motorists off the highway Tuesday. The result was fewer traffic fatalities.

The National Safety Council had predicted between 470-570 persons would die on the nation's highways over the four-day holiday.

By 1 a.m. EST today, 356 deaths were reported.

Best viewing of Kohoutek after sunset

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Comet Kohoutek, which has been an exclusive show for the Skylab 3 astronauts for several days, should become visible to careful earth viewers after sunset tonight.

The comet has been close to the sun for more than a week and the bright solar light made it impossible to view from earth.

But Gerald P. Carr, William R. Pogue and Edward G. Gibson have had a ringside seat from the orbiting space station as Kohoutek looped around the sun last Friday and started its long climb back to the edge of the solar system.

The astronauts reported Tuesday that the tail is becoming more prominent, streaked with orange and yellow colors. It will become increasingly visible to earthlings as it goes farther away from the sun.

"A guy should have a good chance to see it for about 45 minutes after sunset," a Mission Control expert reported. Trained observers with binoculars and telescopes spotted it Monday night, he said.

He said the best viewing time probably will start at sunset Saturday when the comet will be farther above the earth's horizon. This should last five to 10 days before Kohoutek begins to fade.

Experts said comet viewers should look to the west-southwest just after the sun goes down. The head of the comet then will be low in the sky with the tail streaming out from the horizon.

Brightness of the comet should be between that of Venus and Jupiter, which now are the most brilliant nighttime sky features except for the moon.

Carr, Pogue and Gibson scheduled a day off today, mainly to relax, talk among themselves and take their weekly showers.

But they scheduled a total of 10 man-hours of work, primarily to continue Kohoutek photography and to study the sun through Skylab's telescopes.

They also planned a 25-minute news conference in the afternoon, answering questions relayed from newsmen at the Space Center. Part of it was to be televised to Mission Control.

Earthquake rocks Chilean desert region

CALAMA, Chile (AP) — An earthquake rocked Chile's northern desert region this morning. First reports said some buildings were destroyed and three persons injured in this city of 42,000.

At Chiquicamata, the world's largest open-pit copper mine 18 miles to the north, the tremor sent so much dust billowing into the air that work was suspended for about an hour. No injuries were reported and the short stoppage was not expected to affect output.

The quake caused people to flee from their homes in an area extending over 750 miles, authorities reported, but it was not felt in central Santiago.

Ralama, near the Bolivian border, appeared to be the center of the quake, which was reported in Chile to measure six to eight on the Richter scale. The movement was so sharp that residents rushed to the open plazas to avoid shaking buildings.

The quake hit at 7:43 a.m. and lasted for at least two minutes.

Calama appeared to be the only city where any significant damage and injuries were reported.

A earthquake measurement of 6 on the Richter scale means the quake can be severe. A reading of 7 means a quake capable of widespread damage and 8 is a great quake, able to do tremendous damage.

The 1906 San Francisco earthquake registered 8.3.

The Chilean quake was reported by the U.S. National Earthquake Reporting Service at Boulder, Colo., to have registered 6.9.

Sun Oil Company raising fuel prices

NEW YORK (AP) — Sun Oil Co. announced today it was raising prices by two cents a gallon on gasoline and four cents a gallon on kerosene, heating oil and diesel fuel oils.

A spokesman for the company, whose gasoline is sold as Sunoco in the East and DX in the Midwest, said the increases reflect higher costs of domestic and imported crude oil and oil products.

The action by Sun Oil follows similar increases by several other large oil companies in the last few days.

Final vote Thursday

Parseghian says Irish deserve top ranking

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Who's No. 1? To Ara Parseghian, there's no question about it — but Woody Hayes and Joe Paterno have other opinions. "I will be disappointed if we are not No. 1," said Parseghian, whose Fighting Irish of Notre Dame won a 24-23 thriller from top-ranked Alabama in the Sugar Bowl New Year's Eve. "I think we deserve it."

"This is the greatest victory I've ever had, and the greatest for the school," said Hayes, who has been coaching Ohio State for 23 years, after the Buckeyes whipped Southern California 42-21 in the Rose Bowl Tuesday.

"I don't know who's No. 1," said Penn State Coach Paterno, whose Nittany Lions finished a 12-0 by beating Louisiana State 16-9 in the Orange Bowl Tuesday night. "This is the best team I've ever coached, and someone will have to beat us head-on to prove they're better."

Avenge '73 loss

Ohio St. backs Big Ten's pick

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — John Hicks, the nation's best college lineman, breathed a sigh of relief and declared "it's about time we won one, don't you think?"

The All-American offensive tackle for the Ohio State Buckeyes spoke of revenge which his coach, Woody Hayes, said wasn't evident in Ohio State's 42-21 Rose Bowl victory over Southern California Tuesday.

"We knew within our hearts that they couldn't stop us up front. That 42-17 defeat last year was burning inside of us. We knew we weren't that bad," Hicks said.

The Buckeyes atoned for the 1973 Rose Bowl defeat to these same Trojans and broke a four-game Big Ten losing streak before 105,267 fans in the 60th Rose Bowl.

Wayne Duke, Big Ten commissioner, hugged Archie Griffin, OSU's sophomore tailback who ran for 149 yards, setting a Big Ten season mark of 1,577.

"I think there was a question about keeping the Big Ten in the Rose Bowl," said Griffin.

"but I think this game proves we can handle the Pac-8."

The victory by the fourth-ranked Buckeyes, 10-0-1, over the seventh-rated Trojans, 9-2-1, sustained the Big Ten's "vote of confidence" given after the Buckeyes and Michigan tied 10-10 to share the league title.

Hayes, 60-year-old coach of the Buckeyes for 23 seasons, said it was his sweetest triumph ever and the best game ever played by an Ohio State team.

"I told my players I'd be smart to retire after this because I'd never have another game that good, but I enjoy the game too much."

Will Hayes be back for another Rose Bowl next year?

"Oh, I wouldn't be surprised," he said.

Southern Cal's John McKay, now 4-3 as a Rose Bowl coach, said, "Ohio State is the best team we've played ..."

"And they can pass," said McKay, after Greene, a sophomore more noted for his running, hit six of eight throws for 129 yards.

The winning margin for Notre Dame was a combination of a missed extra point by Alabama's Brad Davis with 9:23 to play and a successful 19-yard field goal by Notre Dame's Bob Thomas with 4:26 to go.

The lead changed hands six times in the thriller. The outcome was in doubt until the closing seconds, when Notre Dame — backed to its own goal by a 69-yard punt by Alabama's Greg Gantt — came up with a daring 35-yard pass from Tom Clements to Robin Weber for a first down and was able to run out the clock.

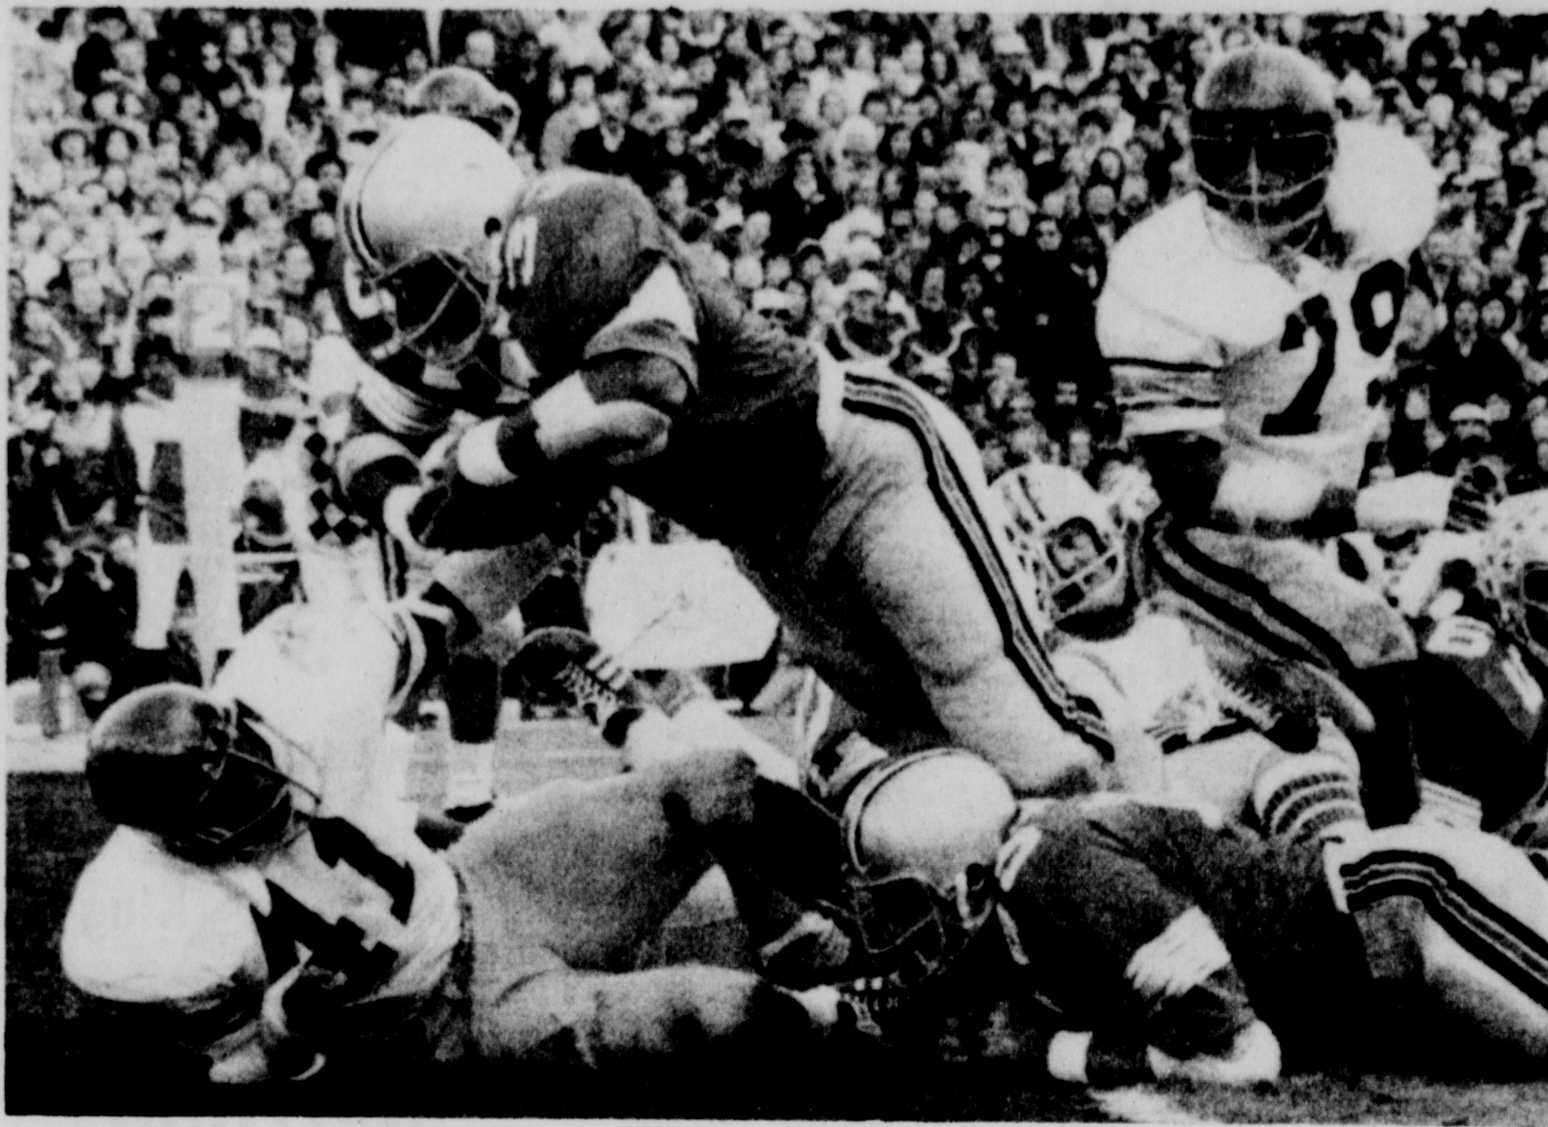

"I would have bet my life we were going to win after we had them back against the goal-line," said Alabama Coach Bear Bryant. "I don't feel like we lost, rather that time ran out on us. We played as well as we could, but Notre Dame came up with the big plays when they needed them."

In Tuesday's Cotton Bowl, Nebraska broke loose from a 3-3 halftime to upset eighth-ranked Texas 19-3.

"I definitely feel we're the national champion," said Parseghian, whose Fighting Irish were ranked No. 3 after a 10-0 regular season.

"We beat the leading scoring team in the nation and the team that was leading in offensive yardage. We beat a great football team — and they lost to a great football team."

The Associated Press' final poll will be released Thursday. In the last regular-season poll, the top six were Alabama, Oklahoma, Notre Dame, Ohio State, Michigan and Penn State. Oklahoma was ineligible for post-season competition, while Michigan, which tied Ohio State for the Big Ten championship, was passed over for a Rose Bowl bid in favor of the Buckeyes in a controversial vote of athletic directors.

First stop Pebble Beach

'74 PGA tour opens Thursday

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — The 1974 pro golf tour opens Thursday beset by a multitude of challenges and changes but anchored by one solid, unshaken, constant factor — the dominance of Jack Nicklaus.

The trimmed-down tour begins Thursday with the $215,000 Bing Crosby National Pro-Am, for three decades a fixture on the schedule but serving as the kickoff tournament for the first time in many years.

And, for the first time, there's the chance that the old groaner will miss his own tour-namment. Crosby was hospitalized Monday suffering from pleurisy.

Among the challenges and changes:

—The energy crisis that threatens to produce considerable complications in the travel plans of the touring pros and the as yet undetermined effect the shortage of gasoline may have on this event 125 miles south of San Francisco.

—A reduced schedule for the $8.5-million dollar tour, one which ends in early November as opposed to the 12-month schedule that has prevailed in recent years.

—Reduced playing schedules for such stars as Arnold Palmer, Billy Casper and possibly Tom Weiskopf. Palmer is skipping this old event for one of the few times in his storied career. Casper also plans a reduction in appearances and Weiskopf is planning no more than 20 starts this season.

—The naming of former player Deane Beman to succeed Joe Day as golf's commissioner.

But with the changes, there's still the formidable figure of Nicklaus as the game's dominant factor.

The Golden Bear has won this tournament for the last two years and closed out another banner season in 1973 with victories in his last two starts.

That gave him seven titles for the season, a leading $308,362 in money winnings, PGA Player of the Year honors for the third time and made him the first player in the game's history to go past $2 million in career earnings.

Naturally, he's the favorite in the 72-hole test scheduled for three courses on the picturesque — but water-soaked — Monterey Peninsula.

New arrival at Curtis' home

BALTIMORE (AP) — Linebacker Mike Curtis of the Baltimore Colts became a father on New Year's Day and spent the day "running back and forth between home and the hospital."

The 30-year-old veteran of nine seasons with the National Football League Club said his wife, Martha, 25, is just "fine and the boy is kind of cute."

"He was born at 1:10 a.m. and we hear he is the second baby this year in the Baltimore area," Curtis said Tuesday night.

Two starters each from Atlanta, Celts

NEW YORK (AP) — Atlanta's Pete Maravich and Lou Hudson, the highest scoring set of teammates in the National Basketball Association, have been selected to start for the Eastern Conference in the league's 24th All-Star Game Jan. 15 at Seattle.

Maravich, runner-up to Buffalo center Bob McAdoo in the scoring race with a 28.3 per game average, was the leading vote-collector among the guards for the East team. He received 15,559 points out of a maximum of 17 in balloting by sports writers and broadcasters in each of the league's 17 franchise cities. The results were announced Tuesday by Commissioner Walter Kennedy.

Hudson, third in scoring with a 26.9 average, finished second to Boston's John Havlicek in the voting among forwards with 11,027 points. Havlicek got 15,782 points.

Boston, like Atlanta, will have two players in the starting lineup. The other Celtics' player chosen was center Dave Cowens, the most valuable player in last season's All-Star Game. Cowens was the top vote-getter on the East team, receiving 16,833 points in edging McAdoo for the starting center spot. McAdoo, averaging 29.3 points per game, garnered 16,232 points in the voting.

Guard Walt Frazier of New York was picked to complete the East's starting lineup.

Others named to the team were McAdoo, forward Elvin Hayes of Capital and guard Jo Jo White of Boston.

Four other players will be chosen by the conference's eight coaches to round out the East's 12-man team.

The starting lineup for the Western Conference will be announced Friday.

Bridges' home damaged by fire

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Fire caused an estimated $5,000 damage Tuesday at the Hollywood Hills home of Bill Bridges, Los Angeles Lakers forward.

Officials said Bridges and his family were away from home when the fire began at 11:17 a.m. Five companies extinguished the blaze in five minutes. Cause of the fire was under investigation. Bridges is a former University of Kansas star.

Set 10-round bout

'Miss Budweiser' driver retiring

XENIA, Ohio (AP) — Two-time national unlimited hydroplane champ Dean Chenoweth is retiring to take over a beer firm distributorship in Florida.

Chenoweth, 35, won the 1970 and 1972 national championships in "Miss Budweiser." He also won Gold Cup championships in 1971 and 1973.

Now, he said, the brewery doesn't want him driving.

Chenoweth said he will select and train his successor in the hydroplane, but has no prospects yet.

UCLA still tops

Notre Dame moves into second spot

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
UCLA remained a unanimous choice for No. 1 but Notre Dame moved ahead of Maryland into the No. 2 spot in the Associated Press weekly college basketball poll released Wednesday.

The Bruins, 8-0, ran their record winning streak to 83 games with one-sided victories over Wyoming and Michigan over the weekend. They collected all 42 votes cast by a nationwide panel of sportswriters and broadcasters and had 840 points overall.

The Fighting Irish, 7-0, moved up from the No. 3 spot on the strength of a 94-79 victory over Kentucky. Notre Dame, which collected 646 points, will get two chances to unseat UCLA this month when the teams collide Jan. 19 in South Bend, Ind., and Jan. 26 in Los Angeles.

Maryland, 5-1 when the voting period ended after Saturday's games, dropped one notch to third despite breezing past Holy Cross 102-75. The Terps collected 633 points.

North Carolina, 6-0, held the fourth position with 603 points after bombing Biscayne 112-72. North Carolina State, 5-1, piled up 510 points and maintained the fifth spot with easy wins over Villanova and Memphis State.

Marquette, 9-0, held onto the No. 6 position by beating Arizona easily and slipping past Wisconsin 49-48 in overtime. Alabama, 6-1, vaulted from 13th to No. 7 by virtue of victories over South Carolina and Louisville.

Indiana dropped one notch to No. 8 after beating Brigham Young and Oregon and losing to Oregon State. The Hoosiers are 7-2. Long Beach State, with nine wins in 10 outings, jumped one place to No. 9 with triumphs over Assumption and Evansville.

Vanderbilt, 8-0 after thumping Vermont 91-56, rounded out the top ten. The Commodores were 11th last week.

Ohio State got three touchdowns from freshman fullback Pete Johnson and 149 yards rushing — including a 47-yard touchdown — by Archie Griffin, but it was the surprising passing of quarterback Cornelius Greene that proved decisive.

The Ohio State performance brought an accolade from losing coach John McKay. "They are better than Oklahoma and Notre Dame," said McKay, whose Trojans tied Oklahoma and lost to Notre Dame in the regular season.

Two long plays in the second quarter provided unbeaten Penn State with its 12th victory of the year.

Flanker Chuck Herd made a spectacular one-handed grab of a pass from Tom Shuman and raced into the end zone on a 72-yard scoring play, then Gary Hayman returned a punt 36 yards to the Louisiana State 26 to set up the Nittany Lions' other touchdown, a one-yard plunge by John Cappelletti.

Cappelletti, the Heisman Trophy winner, was limited to 50 yards on 26 carries by LSU.

A quarterback who expected to spend the day on the bench proved to be the hero for Nebraska. Steve Runtz took over for Dave Humm at halftime and injected some spark into the Nebraska attack, leading the Cornhuskers to a pair of third-period touchdowns.

Runtz guided Nebraska on a 59-yard drive, wingback Ritch Bahe scoring from the 12 on an inside reverse to make it 10-3. The Cornhuskers broke it open moments later when John Bell recovered a Texas fumble at the 19 and Tony Davis scored on a three-yard run.

In other weekend bowl action, Georgia edged Maryland 17-16 in the Peach Bowl Friday night. On Saturday, Houston trounced Tulane 47-7 in the Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl, Texas Tech tripped Tennessee 28-19 in the Gator Bowl and Missouri defeated Auburn 34-17 in the Sun Bowl. Also on Saturday, the East defeated the West 25-7 in the Shrine Bowl.

Frank Thomas' daughter killed in 35-foot fall

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Sharon Thomas, the 17-year-old daughter of former Pittsburgh Pirate baseball star Frank Thomas, was fatally injured when she fell 35 feet down an elevator shaft, authorities said.

Miss Thomas was in an elevator that had stopped between the second and third floors at the Sheraton Motor Inn in suburban Ross Township and she apparently lost her balance when she tried to jump to the lower floor, officials said.

Authorities said the accident occurred at 12:05 a.m. Tuesday and that the high school senior was rushing to join a New Year's party held by classmates.

Miss Thomas died about about an hour later at an area hospital, officials said.

Her father started his baseball career with the Pirates in 1951 and was with the club through 1958. He played with six other National League teams before retiring in 1966.

Steve Runty comes off bench to spark 'Huskies past Texas

DALLAS (AP) — Nebraska, humiliated in its Big Eight Conference showdown with Oklahoma, was the champion of the "Pride Bowl" today and the Cornhuskers can thank forgotten senior quarterback Steve Runty.

Nebraska, runners up in the Big Eight to the Sooners, ripped Texas 19-3 New Year's Day in the 38th Cotton Bowl classic.

The game featured a sudden decision by new Cornhusker Coach Tom Osborne to change quarterbacks at the start of the second half.

The eighth-ranked Longhorns, king of the Southwest Conference, apparently had the second half momentum following a brilliant goal line stand in which linebacker Wade Johnson made four straight tackles at the Texas one-yard line.

The 12th-ranked Huskers beat off a Longhorn offensive flurry following the second half kickoff as Bob Thornton intercepted a Marty Akins pass in the Nebraska end zone.

Then Runty, who came off the bench to replace junior David Humm, took charge. He led Nebraska on two touchdown drives in the third quarter and it was all over for the offensively listless 'Horns.

"I wasn't expecting to play the second half," Runty said. "Coach told me just before the second half started."

Humm is primarily a passing quarterback while Runty, who started the season as the No. 1 signal caller, is run-oriented.

Runty took Nebraska 59 yards for the go-ahead touchdown, hitting a key 17-yard pass on third and four to the Texas 14. Two plays later, wingback Ritch Bahe dashed 12 yards for the touchdown.

On Nebraska's next possession set up by noseguard John Bell's fumble recovery, sophomore Tony Davis ran three yards for a touchdown.

"Runty made things click," said Davis.

Rich Sanger added a 43-yard field goal in the fourth quarter for Nebraska. He had kicked a 24-yarder earlier.

Texas' only points came on a first quarter 22-yard field goal by Billy Scott. The 'Horns never could get their feared ground game untracked, gaining only 106 yards compared with an average of 350 steps during the season.

All-American fullback Roosevelt Leaks of Texas made only 48 yards rushing. He had averaged 141 steps per contest going into the game.

Cappalletti contained but Penn State wins

MIAMI (AP) — It was supposed to be another Heisman Trophy showcase. The only problem was, John Cappelletti didn't go very far — and neither did Joe Paterno's flimsy dreams of a national championship.

Cappelletti, Penn State's bulldozer of a halfback who shouldered his way for 1,522 yards in 11 games and ran away with the award as collegiate football's premiere player of the season, did score a touchdown Tuesday night — the one which, as it turned out, proved to be the margin of victory in the Nittany Lions' 16-9 Orange Bowl victory over Louisiana State.

But with the exception of that soaring one-yard drive, it was a night of frustration for the 6-foot-1, 210-pound senior. LSU's hungry Tigers were looking for him — and all night long, they found him. Cappelletti carried the ball 26 times for just 50 yards.

"LSU was determined to make us throw," said Paterno, who no doubt had been hoping for a roll-up-the-score victory which might have strengthened his argument that his sixth-ranked Lions deserved healthy consideration — along with Notre Dame, Oklahoma, Ohio State and the rest of the leaders — as a contender for the honor of being No. 1 in The Associated Press' final poll.

Despite the narrow victory, Paterno said he was still convinced Penn State belonged at the top of the heap. "This is the best team I've ever coached," he said of the squad that finished at 12-0, the best in the school's history, "and someone will have to beat us head-on to prove they're better."

And the coach had some balloting of his own to prove that nobody's better. "I held the 'Paterno Poll' in the locker room after the game," he kidded, "and the players voted unanimously for Penn State as No. 1."

Tough goal-line stand

Nebraska's Tony Davis finds the going tough on the Texas' one-yard line in the final seconds of the opening quarter of Tuesday's Cotton Bowl in Dallas. Four times the Longhorns stopped Nebraska, leaving the game tied, 3-3, at the half. Stopping Davis is Wade Johnson (35). The Cornhuskers broke the game open in the second half behind reserve quarterback Steve Runty. (UPI)

Cappelletti finds paydirt

Heisman Trophy winner John Cappelletti (22) of Penn State flies over the LSU goal line to score a touchdown in the second quarter of Tuesday night's Orange Bowl in Miami. His TD paved the way to Penn State's 16-9 triumph over the Tigers. (UPI)

Sellout string ends

DALLAS (AP) — The 67,500 attendance figure announced at the 38th Cotton Bowl football game between Nebraska and Texas New Year's Day ended a string of 12 consecutive sellouts beginning with the 1962 Texas-Mississippi game.

There were 2,500 unsold tickets.

Award to Tech

DALLAS (AP) — Texas Tech was presented the Southwest Conference Sportsmanship Trophy at the Cotton Bowl Tuesday. It marked the fifth time in Tech's 13-year S.W.C. membership that it has won the award.

By BOB SHACKELFORD Staff Sportswriter

At the halfway mark in Kaysinger Conference play, early season prognostications are proving to be accurate for the most part with only Sacred Heart slipping from their No. 4 seed in the early loop tournament.

Smithton, expected to be No. 1 in the area, hasn't disappointed their fans rolling up nine consecutive wins including two in the conference. The Tigers have been led by 6-4 senior lefty pivotman Rusty Templemire, but Coach Steve Hunter has been getting balanced scoring and hard-nosed defense from his entire starting crew.

LaMonte's Vikings are cruising along with an 8-2 mark and are tied with Smithton in loop play. As predicted, Glyn Bennett leads everybody in scoring with a nifty 24.5 average. The 5-9 gunner has been held to less than 20 points only three times and has had 30 or more on three occasions.

Bennett has been getting considerable help from the 2 Viking inside men, Donnie Hitafer and Larry Whitworth who are scoring at a 14.4 per game clip.

Coach Bob Farrington's Cole Camp Bluebirds have the best defensive mark in the loop. This comes as no surprise to area roundball buffs as Farrington's clubs have always stressed that phase of the game. Boasting a fine 8-2 record thus far, Cole Camp has already cleared one big hurdle by edging Green Ridge, 50-46.

Green Ridge has their best ball club in at least 15 years. Coach Larry Barb has brought the Tigers to respectability by instilling a winning attitude with a B-team that was successful a year ago plus holdover starters Kent Scotten and Mike Profit. The Bengals 9-2 mark is accented by offense as they lead all teams with a lofty 71.1 average per contest.

Warsaw's Wildcats have had no problem scoring — but their defense has been allowing 69.3 points per game. Only winless Northwest has a higher mark. The 'Cats two senior guards Scott Steffans (18.5) and Tim Hedrick (17.8) are doing their expected scoring, but mistakes and a tough scheduled have plagued Coach Larry Thompson's cagers through a 5-10 record.

Stover, undergoing a rebuilding process, has shown signs of improvement by winning three of their last 4 games after dropping their first six in a row. Ronnie Hodges, 6-0 junior forward, leads their scoring with a 17.6 average.

Coach Tom Beer's Sedalia Sacred Heart crew has had a bit of a disappointing year, but he too has had quite a rebuilding job to undertake. The Grems have dropped seven of their last nine and must get a sustained offense in operation if they are to improve their record.

Lincoln's young club has shown flashes of being the club Coach Rick Mills was hoping for, losing to Cole Camp by one in the Warsaw Tournament and dropping a heartbreaker to Hermitage, 72-70, recently.

Sophomore Rod Ingram leads the Cardinal scoring with a 14.8 average. Northwest is still seeking their first win of the campaign. Coach Ed Scrogin is getting double figure scoring from seniors Alan Meyer (17.3) and Kerry Schroeder (13.7), but after those two, the scoring drops sharply.

Here is a listing of the top five scorers from each team in the conference: Cole Camp — Weymuth 134, Goosen 123, Schnell 96, Brandes 73, Yeager 63.

Green Ridge — Scotten 175, Dove 135, Profit 109, Harding 106, Risner 85.

LaMonte — Bennett 245, Hitafer 144, Whitworth 144, Jones 100, Hughes 39.

Lincoln — Ingram 163, Nevius 80, M. Mullins 78, Terrell 64, Meuschke 37.

Northwest — Meyer 156, Schroeder 123, Killion 79, Wiskur 60, Rife 25.

Sacred Heart — Lock 111, McMullin 104, Johnson 87, Weller 84, Register 82.

Smithton — Templemire 158, White 99, Anderson 97, Teter 96, Turner 93.

Stover — Hodges 176, Nagaard 120, Stevens 89, Hagedorn 76, Mueller 39.

Warsaw — Steffans 277, T. Hedrick 266, Kinkead 144, Allen 114, D. Hedrick 101.

Eugene and Iberia will meet at 4:45 p.m.; that game will be followed by the Blair Oaks Pilot Grove game at 6:15 p.m.

Rounding out the first-round action will be the Tipton-Jamestown match-up at 7:45 p.m. and the Versailles-Osage game at 9:15 p.m.

Thursday's schedule includes both a championship and consolation semifinal game.

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — Jimmy Connors took the first step toward winning the tennis Grand Slam, by capturing the men's singles title in the Australian Open Championships Tuesday.

But his fiancée, Chris Evert, was beaten for the women's crown by Evonne Goolagong.

The 21-year-old Connors, the No. 2 seed from Belleville, Ill., overwhelmed Phil Dent of Australia, 7-6, 6-4, 4-6, 6-3, after Miss Goolagong, the 22-year-old Wimbledon champion, won her country's title for the first time in four tries, beating Miss Evert 6-6, 6-0.

The Australian Championships are the first in the Grand Slam series that includes the French, Wimbledon and U.S. Open tournaments.

Connors, earning $9,685 from the $74,500 purse, was too quick for the 23-year-old Dent, the No. 9 seed, beating him in a match that last two hours, and five minutes. Dent received $5,215.

"I'm the only one who can win the men's Grand Slam this year, but I won't be thinking about it," Connors said. "That would put too much pressure on me."

The men's final was an anticlimax following the thrilling 97-minute women's match watched by a shirtless crowd of 12,500 that overflowed onto the Kooyong grass center court.

Miss Goolagong, the No. 2 seed, took the first set from the 19-year-old Miss Evert, the top seed, by winning a tie-breaker.

Chris was cheered by the partisan crowd when she questioned a late line call against Miss Goolagong in the tie-breaker. The point was replayed and the American won it again.

But Miss Evert lobbed long at 6-5 and lost the opening set.

Miss Evert surged to a 4-1 lead in the second set, but Miss Goolagong cut the deficit to 5-4 before Chris won it with a backhand.

Evonne completely dominated the third set, which last only 18 minutes, outgunning Miss Evert with a blazing net game in which she allowed Chris only nine points.

"Evonne just played better than me," said Chris. "I was a bit sloppy in the final set."

Recreation cages games cancelled

All the Sedalia Park Board Men's independent basketball games scheduled tonight have been cancelled due to the weather, according to an announcement this morning by Recreation Director Roscoe Righter.

Righter said tonight's games will be played next week, pushing the rest of the 1974 schedule back one week.

Behind the shortage--VI

Greatest reserve lies in coal

By PETER ARNETT
AP Special Correspondent

King Coal once was THE American fuel. Today, this empire has yielded to the challenge of cheaper oil and natural gas.

Yet the greatest reserve of stored energy on the U.S. continent is in coal: three trillion tons of it.

That's enough for 5,000 years at the current U.S. consumption level of 600 million tons annually. Coal now provides 17 per cent of the nation's energy, ranking third in importance behind natural gas (30 per cent) and oil (45 per cent).

Fifty years ago, coal provided more than 50 per cent of the energy consumed in the United States.

Can coal production and use be developed in the next decade, now that the nation faces a major oil and gas shortage which might last for years?

The experts say yes — if industry and government are prepared to bankroll a crash program they compare in scope to the atom bomb's Manhattan Project.

The object of the crash program would be to raise coal utilization once again to 50 per cent of the nation's total energy consumption, with rigorous measures to limit environmental damage.

This would mean nearly tripling coal production to 1.5 billion tons a year by 1985. Most of the expanded production would be converted to synthetic gas and oil. But first researchers must find economic ways to carry out the conversion processes.

The estimated cost of the crash program: The industry says $15 billion or more just to triple coal production by 1985, with two to three billion more needed for technological development.

The government has made merely the initial move, increasing the federal budget for coal research $50 million in October, making it $165 million for the year.

Three coal gasification pilot plants have been built, partly with federal funds. Three more are under construction.

However, the administration has given top priority to development of the nuclear fission fast-breeder reactor. At the present slow pace of coal gasification funding, the first large-scale demonstration plant will not be started until 1976.

Industry experts say the first commercial gasification plant will not appear until 1980, at the earliest. They say a reasonable goal is construction of 30 such plants by 1985, at a cost of $9 billion dollars. These plants would produce enough coal gas to substitute for 10 per cent of the natural gas now consumed.

Research is needed to achieve three major industry objectives:

To produce a gas of high heat value to supplement natural gas in the nation's pipelines; to use a cheap "power gas" to replace much of the natural gas, raw coal and fuel oil now burned in electric power plants; and to produce a range of coal oil products, including gasoline.

Another problem is environmental pollution. The industry faces a tough challenge on strip mining, clean air and safety. Opposition to strip mining grows daily in Montana and other Western states with huge coal reserves. Farmers and ranchers are siding with environmentalists on the issue, saying the nation's food needs require that the land be saved for growing and grazing. The National Academy of Sciences claims there isn't enough water available in the Western coal areas to cool the electric generating plants that would operate near the mines.

The coal companies want to stretch the terms of the Clean Air Act to allow the burning of more high-sulfur coal during the next few years. The head of the Environmental Protection Agency, Russell Train, replies that technology to remove sulfur is available, and some devices are already in use.

Despite the problems, there seems little doubt that coal has a big future.

Secretary of the Interior Rogers Morton said recently that coal "is our ace in the hole, our most abundant resource." And the assistant interior secretary, Steve Wakefield, told reporters, "There might have been a question a few weeks ago about whether the nation was going to turn to coal in a big way. After the Arab cutoff there is no longer any question: We have got to go on coal."

Too psychedelic for Irish judge

DUBLIN (AP) — "Discos are a new development designed by the devil for crazy youngsters to make them even more crazy," said Judge Carr, at Naas Court, County Kildare.

He said the psychedelic lights which rotated at high speed could drive people out of their minds.

The judge was hearing an objection to the granting of a dance license to an hotel.

Is cholesterol needed?

DEAR DR. LAMB — I looked up cholesterol in the dictionary and it reads — a crystalline fatty alcohol, found in animal fat. It also says that some gallstones are almost pure cholesterol.

Is cholesterol essential to any body function or is it a residue? Does it cause hardening of the arteries? In a person who has had a stroke does it sometimes change their personality?

DEAR READER — That is not a very good definition of cholesterol. I would guess over half the public confuses cholesterol with fat. It is a waxy-like material formed mostly by the liver. It is drained out of the liver into the bile. It can be formed in the liver from the carbon and hydrogen in fats, carbohydrates, proteins or alcohol. There is a great tendency for the liver to form more cholesterol whenever we eat too much of anything.

The cholesterol is reabsorbed from the intestine along with the additional cholesterol in any food we eat. Thus the cholesterol entering into the bloodstream comes from both that made by the liver and that in our diet. The fat foods apparently stimulate the liver to form more cholesterol, possibly in part, because they contain so many calories, and excess calories stimulate the formation of cholesterol.

It is true that cholesterol is only an animal product. You do not find it in plants (vegetables, fruits, nuts or cereals). The most common sources of cholesterol in large amounts in our food are egg yolks and organ meats. Smaller amounts are in meat (even lean meat without fat) and milk products.

Many people seem to be confused because they have read that the body can produce cholesterol, just as I have said here. They think that if the body forms cholesterol anyway it doesn't make any difference if there is cholesterol in the food. This is wrong. The cholesterol in food and that formed in the body both affect how much is in the blood.

The diet is also important because it affects the body's tendency to form cholesterol. The saturated fats and too many calories are the chief offenders here. So, diet is very important in most people in keeping the cholesterol and, equally important, the blood fat level down to safe levels.

A small amount of cholesterol is important in the formation of hormones and in forming those important bile salts needed to absorb fats from the small intestine (possibly a dubious benefit in some people) and other body functions. This represents such a tiny fraction of the total amount of cholesterol formed that the body has no problem meeting these requirements.

You should think of cholesterol as a factor in forming the fatty particles that deposit in the arteries to cause changes of atherosclerosis or hardening of the arteries. And, this can lead to heart attacks, strokes, and many other problems related to the circulation. If it affects the circulation to the brain, it can cause personality changes. This can occur with or without an obvious stroke.

THE SEDALIA DEMOCRAT

Sedalia, Missouri, Wednesday, Jan. 2, 1974—Section B

Official ceremony

Old theater has new life

Farm roundup

BEAVER FALLS, Pa. (AP) — What can be done with an old theater building in a business district, short of tearing it down for redevelopment? One answer is conversion of the structure into a minimall with 13 stores and a restaurant lounge. In Beaver Falls, it was a $250,000 venture undertaken by three businessmen.

The minimall, first of its type in the area, opened in December with accolades from other business people and customers alike, pleased with conversion of an old eyesore into something attractive and useful. In addition, it gave an aging business district a shot-in-the-arm.

The first step was acquisition at a reasonable price of the property — which was closed as a movie theater in November, 1960. The second step was borrowing a wad of money.

Lining up prospective tenants was necessary, too, such as a fabrics shop, a bakery, a toiletries-bath shop, clothing shops, tobacco and candy store, costume jewelry-cosmetics shop, paint, wallpaper and decorating store, photo shop, carpet shop, an ice cream parlor and a sporting goods store.

Conversion of the theater building into a minimall involved tearing out much of the first floor and building a shell within the structure. There were 1,098 tons of fill used to make the first floor level and 110 cubic yards of concrete poured.

The Spanish motif of the former theater — named the Granada — was preserved and enhanced in the conversion. The marquee was retained and redecorated in Spanish stucco and the front of the building was cleaned and floodlighted with mercury vapor lights. Besides the main entrance, two entrances were provided from an alley at the rear — near a parking lot and adjacent street.

The minimall has 8,800 square feet of space on the first floor and there are 2,500 square feet of usable space in the basement, where a soon-to-be-opened restaurant-lounge is located.

The former mezzanine and office of the theater provide for storage area and offices. Use of the balcony for a minitheater is a possibility.

Another possibility being given serious consideration is constructing entrances between the minimall and multi-story mercantile buildings adjoining on either side.

The minimall — named Granada at Seventh — has done much to renovate one block in the business district, along with a new Mellon Bank branch, recently constructed directly across Seventh Avenue.

Promotion helps, too — just as it did in the theater business. When the minimall opened, the developers had a 61-foot cake stretched across the property's frontage. The cake was sliced into 2,500 pieces and distributed to visitors.

PACK YOUR GIFTS

NEW YORK (AP) — Since federal law requires that all hand-carried parcels be searched prior to boarding an airplane, Samsonite Luggage suggests leaving extra room for storing gifts when you pack your bags.

Then, you can just check your luggage when you get to the airport. And if you receive gifts while you're away, you'll have packing room for them on the way back.

Close watch on farm economy

By DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — E. A. Jaenke, governor of the Farm Credit Administration, said Wednesday the energy crisis is producing an unavoidable disruption in the nation's farm economy.

He called for a close watch by agricultural money lenders in 1974.

"The immediate impact is in price. Costs of fuel and energy in all forms are rising and will go higher," Jaenke said in a statement. "The banks and associations in the Farm Credit System will need to carefully review with their borrowers the effect of increased production expenses and the resulting squeeze on farm profits."

The administration supervises the cooperative farm credit system, which includes federal land banks, production credit associations and banks for cooperatives.

Jaenke, with Agriculture Department economists, said he thought 1974 net farm income would be down from the record of more than $25 billion last year but still be above average.

"We are genuinely optimistic that adequate credit will be available through the Farm Credit System, but because of the higher cost of money and inflationary pressures, the price may be higher," he said. In 1973, the system served more than 433,000 farmers and about 2,900 farm cooperatives, collectively a record number, he said. New lending may total $3.3 billion in 1974, about the same as last year, he added.

The system has about $21 billion in loans outstanding, up about one-fifth from a year ago. Those include older loan contracts and loans that have been renegotiated.

WORLD ALMANAC
FACTS

The nation's railroads, in 1971, hauled 2,626,280,490 tons of freight in 1,440,873 freight cars over some 204,000 miles of railroad track. The World Almanac says. During this period freight trains traveled 436,563,277 miles at a cost of 1.61 cents a ton mile, and earned the railroads about $12 billion in freight revenue.

Land use controls urgently needed

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
NEA News Analyst

WASHINGTON — Let's start passing out more frequent warnings about a coming shortage of usable land before the crisis is upon us and the critics holler that nobody paid attention while there was still time.

Blossat
Land for farms, for cities and their suburbs, for highways and electric transmission lines is disappearing in this country at an alarming pace. It's been estimated in published accounts that in 1974 an added three million acres will either be built upon, or stripped of its cover.

You wouldn't believe where some of it goes. For instance, the nation's electric utilities presently occupy four million acres for the rights-of-way needed to accommodate their 300,000 miles of overhead transmission lines. If their present projections of rising electricity use hold good, they may require another 4.5 million acres by the year 2000. That's an area just a little smaller than the state of Massachusetts.

We can't assume that all bets are off because we are currently close to zero population growth and might stay at that birth-death ratio for years to come. The official word is that our population will increase yearly well into the 21st century, adding the limited number yet to be born to the large proportion of expected survivors from among those already here.

Suburban development, of course, will continue to be the biggest land consumer. And, as before, the most attractive land to the developer will be the easiest to convert — the flat to rolling farmland generally directly adjoining existing development.

With this will come new highway systems, new factories drawn by the convenience of these transportation networks and by the pools of labor housed in the new suburbs. Not to mention space for schools and other basic community facilities — and sprawling shopping centers.

Sad to say, some of the nation's richest and most easily worked farmland will vanish in the process. That's not exactly a new story. Thousands of square miles of fertile soil already lie buried beneath vast stretches of "ranch-houses," where the most productive consequences today are flower beds and patches of bushes.

Southern California's San Fernando Valley once was loaded with walnut groves and potato fields. Some are being preserved, but most went with the developer's windiness.

Oregon's Willamette Valley is one of the country's most fertile for farming. But right now it contains 75 per cent of the state's population (on 12 per cent of the land), and the disproportion is rising.

Oregon's Gov. Tom McCall, who refuses to believe in the automatic marvels of economic growth, is fighting against what he sees as the sweep of the "cement society."

Chicago's choice farming hinterland, once given over to high-value truck farming, is falling to the bulldozer's carving blade. The story is the same in countless places.

A handful of states have reasonably adequate land use planning laws and implementing agencies. If they are not universal very soon, and equipped with very tough features and sharp enforcement teeth, we may be in for a devastation of valuable land that could make the energy crisis look like a short bout with the flu.

Simon: we can solve the crisis

WASHINGTON — So you're wondering whether you're likely to lose your job in 1974 because of the energy crisis, or if the country is in for a severe recession. Or maybe you're just confused about a hundred things you've heard.

Rowan

Since the questions and confusion plagued me, too, I dropped by the other day for a long private talk with energy chief William E. Simon. I devote this column to what I think are the critical answers, based on what Simon told me.

Q — Is your job in jeopardy?

A — If you work in the automobile industry you have serious reason to worry. This is one of the areas so dependent on petroleum that Simon and his staff have found no way to minimize the impact of the oil embargo. But Simon insists he will be able to hold down layoffs in steel, petrochemicals and other basic industries to the extent that there will not be a severe recession or a depression. He concedes, however, that a lot more people will be out of work — but many of them because of the slowdown in the economy which was under way before the energy crunch hit.

Q — Does this optimistic talk mean that there never was a real crisis except for what the oil companies contrived and White House politicians used to try to make people forget Watergate?

A — If you don't think there's a crisis, watch what happens to the price of gasoline — and the length of the lines of cars at your filling station. The Organization of Oil Exporting Countries (OPEC) now has oil up to $11 a barrel, a 470 per cent increase in 1973 alone. Your gasoline will go up by about 10 cents a gallon, and the OPEC countries and Canada could cause even more increases within a few months.

Simon says that, no matter what the Arabs do about their embargo, "the energy problem will be with us for the next decade or two decades." He says there's no way to escape a situation where we'll have to import 10 to 12 million barrels a day (or half what we need) by 1978 or 1979. Under these circumstances, the oil-rich countries will put whatever price they please on a barrel of oil, and this could have a severe impact on the economies of the United States and the world.

Simon says the U.S. needs 60 new refineries, costing 300 to 500 million dollars apiece, over the next decade.

The crisis is serious enough, he says, to force fundamental changes in the lifestyles of Americans — the size of cars we drive, the kind of buildings we construct, the mobility we enjoy.

Q — Does this mean rationing is inevitable, as Sen. Henry M. Jackson insists?

A — Simon has announced a standby system for rationing gasoline, but he clearly remains dead set against it. He foresees "a nightmare" as doctors, journalists, traveling salesmen, numbers runners and almost everybody under the sun demand special coupons on grounds that they live by their wheels.

But Simon made it clear that he will invoke his coupon-rationing system if the lines of cars at filling stations become intolerably long. If rationing is imposed, "We will use the utmost flexibility," Simon said, "but there is no way it can be done equitably. It will force a lot of people into carpools. And I predict that within three months the American public will be absolutely fed up with rationing."

Q — But suppose the Arabs lift their boycott within a few months — shouldn't that erase the need for rationing?

Maybe. But don't forget the Arabs could end the boycott but still hold production down so low that the importing countries (Europe, Japan, the U.S.) would get into bidding free-for-alls over the available oil. The likelihood is that there would still be a lot of empty gasoline pumps for many months after the boycott ends.

Q — What's the bitter truth? Are we in a mess where no solution is in sight?

A — Simon says no. While he emphasizes the seriousness of the problem he still calls it, "the most solvable problem we've got."

"OPEC hasn't had anything from us but rhetoric, yet," he says, "but when OPEC sees that the U.S. is serious about using its technology and resources to provide alternative supplies of energy, that's when the price of foreign oil will go down." Referring to coal, shale, our own oil explorations, nuclear energy, Simon insists that "we have the absolute ability to solve this problem."

Sloppy computers can irk customers

"There's something that doesn't like a wall," said poet Robert Frost. There's also something in the human makeup that doesn't like a computer.

For all the dramatic cost-savings promised by the computer, it can create a wall of customer bad will unless businessmen recognize the public's hostility toward the electronic monster, warns the international accounting firm of Coopers & Lybrand.

"Computers are basically resented for two reasons," says the company in an article in its fall Journal.

"The first is explicit: (The) systems have demonstrated an unresponsiveness to complaints and to special situations for which they have not been programmed.

"The second reason is seldom explicit but poses a much more serious challenge to management: computers tend to close the comfortable gap between theory and practice that nearly everyone takes advantage of at some time or another."

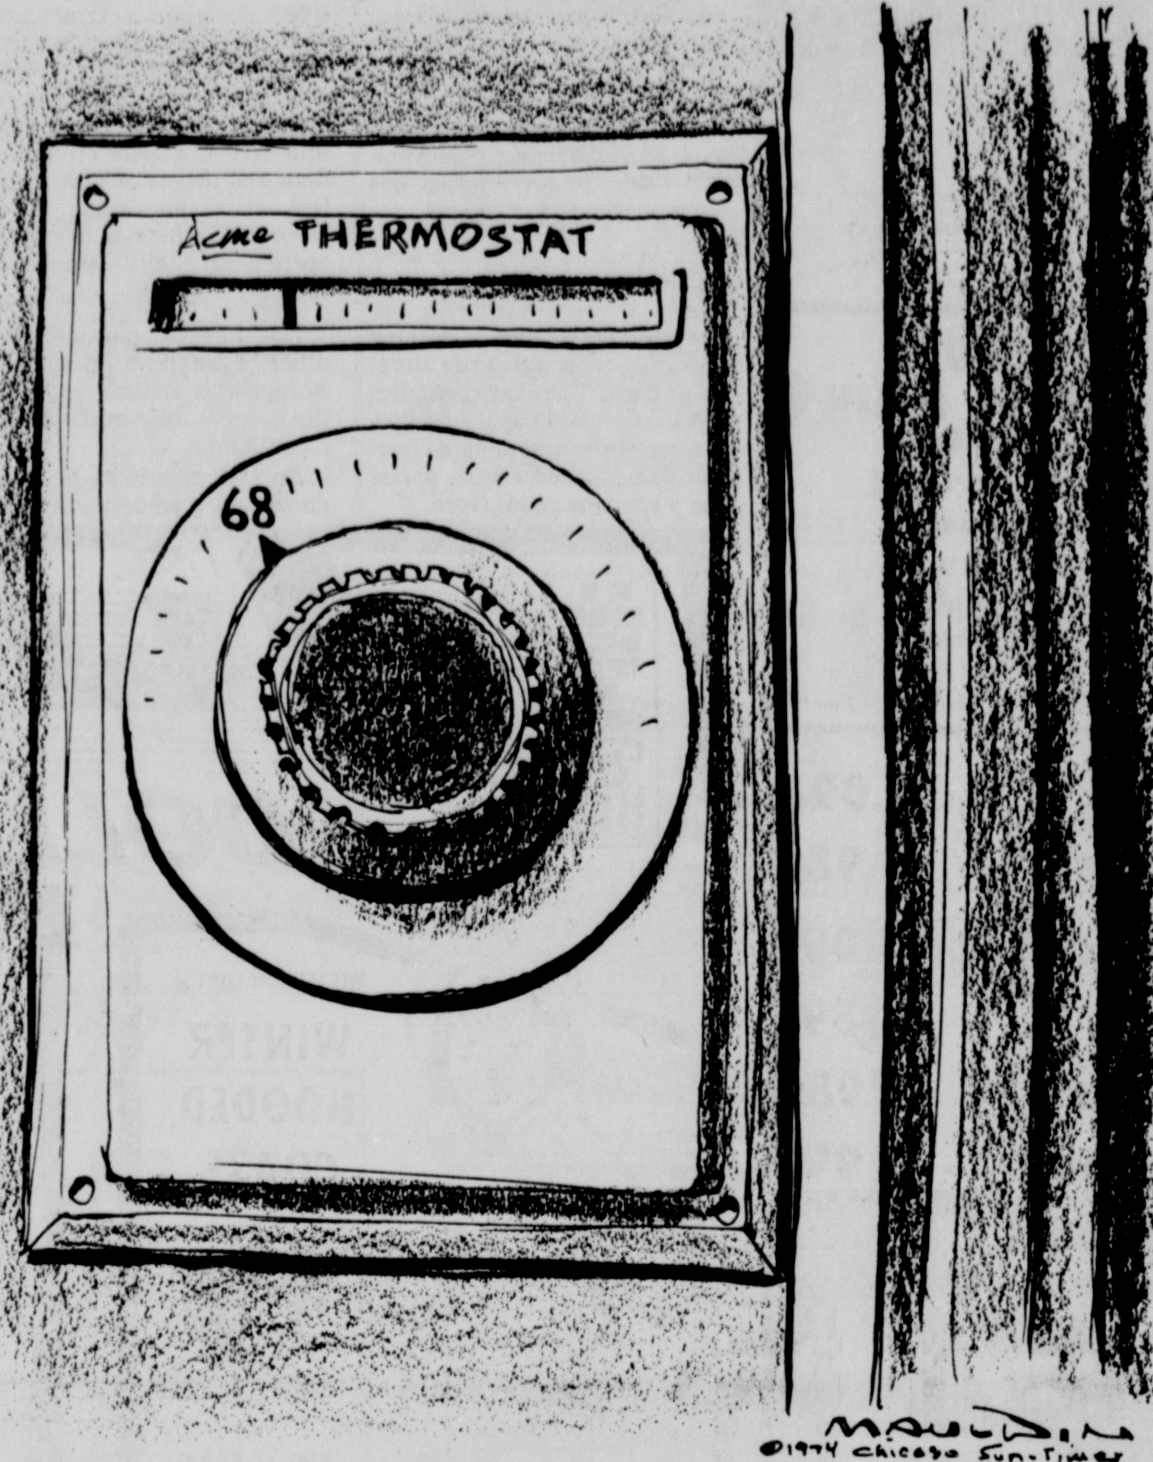

For example, customers are likely to be more outraged at a billing error by computer than a similar error committed by a human being. Moreover, if the computer continues to send out dunning letters before a store can correct the error, customers are likely to take their business elsewhere.

Speed is also involved in the second reason computers are resented. A creditor who receives a notice two days after delinquency instead of the 30 to 60 days he is accustomed to may feel the computer "is on top of me."

Similarly, businesses that are used to taking advantage of the time lag between writing checks and having them charged to the bank account—thereby obtaining a short-term, interest-free "loan"—are not likely to appreciate the elimination of this benefit by the greater efficiency of computers.

Among a number of recommendations, the accounting firm suggests that computer users give high priority to setting up error-correcting departments in their automatic data processing systems, as well as building in more flexibility to allow for the inefficiencies of their all-too-human customers. SPRIT OF '74

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — The White House ordered E. Howard Hunt, its resident snoop, to conduct a secret investigation, in May 1972, of a prominent Cuban exile physician.

The subject of the scrutiny was Dr. Enrique Huertas, whose reputation is impeccable. Yet confidential White House documents show that the undercover Hunt was turned loose on him.

The probe was directed by one of President Nixon's staff assistants, William "Mo" Marumoto, who was paid by the taxpayers to find jobs and grants for worthy Spanish-Americans.

Marumoto mentioned the investigation in a confidential May 12, 1972, memo to White House aides Charles Colson and Fred Malek. "Had Howard Hunt check out Enrique Huertas, President of the Cuban Medical Doctors in Exile," Marumoto reported cryptically. He added that Hunt had submitted a report to him.

This was a busy time for Hunt, who was running around in a silly CIA wig carrying out heavy Watergate duties against newsmen, Democrats and unsympathetic Republicans. He is now serving time for his role in the Watergate break-in and conspiracy.

Dr. Huertas was turned over to Hunt for investigation about the time the Cuban physician came to Washington to visit with Organization of American States foreign ministers. He also dropped by the White House to see Marumoto.

As Dr. Huertas recalls the encounter, he mentioned the need for a grant to build a medical facility for Cubans in Miami. Marumoto, in turn, invited Huertas to attend several receptions being held in connection with the OAS meetings.

Dr. Huertas impulsively refused to go, saying he didn't want to attend any OAS functions until he could go as a representative of a free Cuba. In retrospect, he told my associate Les Whitten ruefully: "Marumoto must have thought, 'Who is this guy, anyway?'"

As Marumoto recalls the incident, he

Merry-go-round

Cuban doctor target of Hunt's snooping

received a call from Charles Colson's office asking about an invitation to Dr. Huertas to attend an official dinner. The Colson aide suggested that Hunt check out the physician. Marumoto called Hunt to his office, gave him the doctor's name and later received a written report. Marumoto doesn't remember what Hunt reported, except that it was summed up in one or two pages.

The discovery of the Huertas episode raises the specter of dozens of other unreported probes which may have been carried out by the White House undercover "Plumbers" squad at the whim of anonymous Nixon staff assistants.

Clearly, the break-in at Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist, the bugging of columnist Joe Kraft, the attempt to discredit the Kennedys, the going-over the plumbers gave my own operation and other publicized "Mission: Impossible" escapades still haven't exhausted the secrets buried in the deepest files at 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue.

FOOTNOTE: Both Colson and Malek told us they cannot remember Huertas' name or Marumoto's memo.

REBOZO FAVORED: The President's pal, Bebe Rebozo, sold some land to the federal government in 1969 for the Biscayne National Monument. He received an over-the-appraisal settlement on one 12.4-acre parcel and a huge settlement on another 77-acre tract he owned jointly with three others. In contrast, neighboring property owners have complained to us they received single, take-it-or-leave-it offers that were far below the appraisal values.

PENTAGON PRIVILEGES: We have been inundated with citizen complaints that the military brass use government cars and drivers to haul around their wives and children. Spot checks have confirmed some of the charges. For example, Gen. Creighton Abrams, the Army chief, sends his daughter to an exclusive girls' school in Alexandria, Va. Along with some schoolmates, she is chauffeured to and from school every day in a military station wagon. At the same time, the Pentagon is cutting back fuel for essential military operations.

FISH STORY: Last June, we reported that the National Aquarium was compelled to spend a tenth of its meager budget to provide exotic fish for the pampered poobahs of government. The taxpayers, for example, supplied former Vice President Spiro Agnew with Kissing Gouramis and White House press secretary Ronald Ziegler with Bleeding Heart Tetras. As a result of our column, the National Aquarium has now been authorized to phase out its door-to-door fish service. All fish-tank holders have been notified by letter that "the maintenance of existing aquariums will be discontinued."

SPANISH JOY RIDE: The 555th Air Force Band, a reserve unit of the Ohio Air National Guard, recently returned from a two-week tour of Spain. Although it may sound like a Spanish joy ride, it was anything but. The band members sat on wooden benches on aerial refueling planes for the trans-Atlantic trip.

They rushed around in an old bus to perform good will concerts. On the way to Toledo, Spain, the band's bus caught fire and their instruments went up in flames. Down but not out, the merry military musicians borrowed instruments, some from local high schools students, to meet their remaining commitments. Then they returned on another aerial refueler, sitting for 15 hours on wooden benches.

The standard lead from three small in auction and in the first 25 years of contract was the top card. The theory was that when you led low your partner would know that you held either a long suit or an honor.

Today, almost every expert and many other players lead low from three although a corporal's guard will lead the middle card from this holding.

There are two advantages to this lead. The first is that when you do lead high your partner will know that you have a doubleton or singleton. The second is that the lead may make it hard for declarer to know how to play the hand.

Back in the 30s West would open the deuce of spades. East would rise with the ace and lead the suit back. South would hop right up with his king of spades and go after clubs. He would know that West either held four spades or had led from the queen.

South would make four notrump unless West tried to unblock the suit by dropping his queen under South's king in which case South would make five odd.

What does South do against a man who leads low from three? He may still rise with the king but the chances are he will finesse his jack at trick two. In that case, West will take his queen and return the suit, and South will wind up with just eight tricks.

Households and businesses in poor financial position

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — American businesses and households are in a less than satisfactory financial position as the economic downturn begins.

Statistics show that liabilities are high in relation to assets in both sectors, thus weakening their ability to withstand the stresses of lost sales and wages.

While it is too early to predict the consequences of this illiquidity, government officials, businessmen and others will be watching closely for any indication of rising bankruptcies.

Some businessmen already are complaining about slow payments of bills, and attribute it to the reluctance of customers to finance inventories with high cost loans. Instead, they borrow from their suppliers.

Lionel Edie & Co., the economic research and consulting arm of Merrill Lynch, the brokerage house, comments that the situation "shows an alarming resemblance to the 1969-1970 period."

It was during that time that many companies found it increasingly difficult to finance their operations, none more so than the Penn Central, which was forced into reorganization.

Edie notes that corporations have sharply increased their short-term borrowings and that now their cash assets are only 18.6 per cent of current liabilities, compared with a ratio near 40 per cent in the early 1960s.

One sign of household strain is the high percentage of installment credit extended in relation to disposable personal income. This figure has risen sharply.

Historically, the percentage of debt to disposable income is below 1.5 per cent. In the 1960s, Edie notes, the percentage exceeded 1.5 only in 1965, when it reached 1.82 per cent.

Lately the ratio has jumped sharply higher again. In 1972,

Edie told its corporate clients this week, it was over 2 per cent and indicated that this year's ratio might turn out to be about 2.25 per cent.

While terming the increase alarming, Edie noted in its report that the situation for households is even worse when noninstallment credit and mortgage payments are added in.

New mortgage debt for the household sector has been rising at an annual rate of 540 billion during the past two years, compared to only 524 billion in 1972.

But Edie remains confident that "while current liquidity appears to be dangerously low, the likelihood of a more severe recession because of illiquidity is small."

It lists as reasons for optimism its belief that the Federal Reserve will permit more money to flow into the economy, the sophistication of corporate treasurers and the common sense of consumers in declining to take on additional debt.

Oil company contributions to Nixon campaign reported

WASHINGTON (AP) — Officials and major stockholders of 178 oil companies gave nearly $5 million to President Nixon's 1972 re-election campaign, according to a study by Rep. Les Aspin.

The Wisconsin Democrat said Tuesday that the contributions make it impossible for Nixon to deal effectively with the energy crisis.

The 58-page study lists contributions to Nixon's campaign totaling $4,981,840 from 413 oil company directors, senior officials and principal stockholders.

Aspin said this does not include contributions of $268,700 from the Rockefeller family — which he said owns 1 per cent of Exxon stock — or $505,000 from executives of 10 major petrochemical firms. These donations would bring the total to about $5.7 million, or roughly 10 per cent of the total contributions to the Nixon campaign, said Aspin.

"It is now clear why the administration attitude has been so consistently anticonsumer and pro-big oil — the oil companies financed a big chunk of the President's last campaign," Aspin said in a statement accompanying the study.

Three large oil companies on the list — Gulf, Phillips and Ashland — have admitted illegally donating a total of $300,000 in corporate funds to the campaign, Aspin noted. These donations were later returned.

"The big oil companies have Mr. Nixon in a double hammerlock," said Aspin. "After their massive contributions, there is little he can do to control them."

Aspin said the major contributions came from executives and stockholders of these firms:

Gulf Oil Co., $1.18 million; Amerasia Hess Corp., $261,956; Getty Oil Co., $179,292; Standard Oil of Calif., $166,000; Sun Oil Co., $157,798; Pan Ocean Oil Corp., $137,036; Phillips Petroleum Co., $137,000; Exxon, $127,747; the Williams Companies, $117,596; Shaheen Natural Resources, $104,000; and Ashland Oil Inc., $103,500.

Aspin released his study

Discovers vacation home gone

Most irksome to Santa, though, are what he terms "semi-crank" calls from "somebody in some bar room in San Diego who had to say hello to Santa Claus."

"Those generally come about 3 a.m."

And that's too much, even for Santa.

Crosby recovery is reported as satisfactory

BURLINGAME, Calif. (AP) — Singer Bing Crosby is making a satisfactory recovery from pleurisy at Peninsula Hospital, a hospital spokesman says.

"We don't know when he'll be released," nursing supervisor Rawnie Gordon said Tuesday. "Of course everybody's hoping it'll be by Thursday," when the 33rd annual Bing Crosby National Pro-Am Golf Championship opens in Pebble Beach.

Crosby, 69, reportedly spent much of the day Tuesday resting comfortably and watching televised football games.

He was admitted to the hospital Monday after developing back and chest pains that were diagnosed as pleurisy, an inflammation of the lung membranes.

Santa calls costly

NORTH POLE, Alaska (AP) — Hold it Virginia, Alabama — Washington and California. Santa has had about enough.

The not-so-jolly old gent said New Year's Day his telephone still was ringing nonstop. But, instead of youngsters making their Christmas requests it was irate parents inquiring about $97 phone bills.

"I'm getting calls galore from telephone operators verifying my number," Santa said. "A lot of parents are pretty irate because some bills run up mighty high. Several thousand folks got phone bills for calls to Santa's house at North Pole, Alaska, and they want to know if I'm for real."

Santa, who is Con Miller, owner of Santa Claus House Trading Post, gets about 5,000 calls a year, some from as far away as Japan and Bermuda.

"Most of the kids in the lower 48 states dial the numbers themselves," he said. "You know you've only got to show those youngsters once how to use the phone."

During the day a four-minute phone call from Miami, Fla., to here would cost about $6.30 plus tax. For a kid with a big list that runs into a large bill fast.

"Where they get my number I don't know," he said.

It has been listed as Santa Claus House in the North Pole section of the Fairbanks telephone directory since 1952.

Around Christmas some newspapers and radio and television stations give it out.

Most irksome to Santa, though, are what he terms "semi-crank" calls from "somebody in some bar room in San Diego who had to say hello to Santa Claus."

"Those generally come about 3 a.m."

And that's too much, even for Santa.

New Year's blast

Belfast's biggest shopping center lies in ruin after a 200-pound bomb was exploded Tuesday by an army demolition squad, unable to defuse it.

The bomb was left in a stolen taxi with a warning telephoned to a newspaper. The area was cleared and no one was injured, but damage was heavy. (UPI)

POW weds widow of downed pilot

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A former Vietnam prisoner of war and the widow of a pilot killed in Vietnam were married in a wedding chapel on the Las Vegas Strip on New Year's Eve.

Air Force Lt. Col. Ramon Horinek, 41, married Judi Fitton, 35. The couple had met recently while Horinek was on a speaking tour in Salina, Kan., where his bride had been living.

Horinek, a pilot held prisoner in North Vietnam from 1967 until last March, said his new wife had first asked him if he had any news of her husband, Lt. Col. Crosey Fitton. Fitton was shot down over Hanoi in February 1968 and was officially declared dead last November.

"We hit it off immediately and eventually began dating and fell in love," said Horinek. "We had so much in common. We had both lost something—five and a half years in my case, a husband in hers."

Horinek has six children by a previous marriage that ended in divorce before he was captured in Vietnam. Mrs. Horinek has three children.

Pumping station explosion

PRAIRIE DU ROCHER, Ill. (AP) — An explosion and fire erupted Tuesday night at a natural-gas pumping station south of this Southern Illinois city, fire officials said.

Fire officials said they knew of no deaths or injuries at the pumping station owned by the Illinois Power Co. They said they were trying to locate company workers and get them to turn off the gas.

Some residents were being evacuated from their homes, fire officials said.

They said the pumping station is one-half mile south of the city.

The highway patrol said the Mississippi River Transmission Corp., operates the pipeline for the utility. The firm is the major supplier of natural gas to the Laclede Gas Co., which serves most of the St. Louis area.

The plant is about 50 miles south of St. Louis and just across the Mississippi River from Ste. Genevieve. Witnesses said the flames were visible for a radius of 50 miles.

There was no immediate explanation for the explosion.

Authorities said firemen from Prairie Du Rocher and Red Bud, Ill., and Kirkwood and Franklin County on the Missouri side were assisting.
